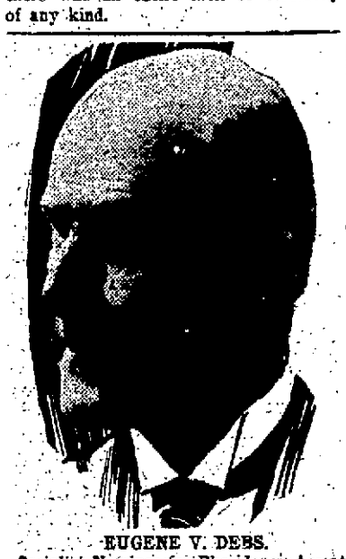
Eugene V. Debs in Acceptance of Nomination for Presidency.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 26.—In marked contrast to the notification ceremonies practiced by other political parties the socialist presidential nominee, Eugene V. Debs, today accepted his nomination by simply informing the newspapers that they were at liberty to print his address of acceptance which he had sent them in printed form.

No committee called on Mr. Debs and there was an entire lack of ceremony of any kind.



EUGENE V. DEBS.
Socialist Nominee for Presidency Accepts Honor.

The extreme simplicity of the occasion was marked further by Mr. Debs' preparation for a trip to Fergus, Falls, Minn., where he will speak tomorrow night. The address in part follows:

"The infallible test of a political party is the private ownership of the sources of wealth and the means of life. Apply that test to the republican, democratic and progressive parties and upon that basic, fundamental issue you will find them essentially one and the same. They differ according to the conflicting interests of the privileged classes, but at bottom they are alike and stand for capitalist class rule and working class slavery.

"The new progressive party is a party of progressive capitalism. It is lavish-

GOVERNOR MARSHALL ARRIVES IN MAINE.

Portland, Me., Aug. 26.—Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, democratic candidate for vice president, arrived here today to take part in the state campaign. He announced that he would discuss the tariff at a mass meeting in this city tonight. The election will be held on Sept. 9.

LOEB READY TO TESTIFY

Will Tell of Roosevelt's Course Regarding Campaign Funds.

COLONEL SAYS HE IS PLEASED

More Light Coming on the Harriman-Archbold Contributions.

Oyster Bay, Aug. 26.—What Col. Roosevelt knew and did in the Archbold campaign fund in 1904; what President Roosevelt said to the late E. H. Harriman and what Mr. Harriman said to President Roosevelt about Harriman's $260,000 contribution are matters to which Wm. Loeb, jr., former private secretary, is prepared to testify before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions, according to an announcement made here today by Col. Roosevelt.

"Mr. Loeb told me last night that he had seen statements that he was to be brought down before the committee," Col. Roosevelt said today. "He wished to come and tell me about these rumors. I told him that if he was called he was to go, of course, and to testify to everything.

Col. Roosevelt was greatly pleased at the prospect of Mr. Loeb's taking the witness stand before the committee.

"While under no circumstances would I myself ever have asked Mr. Loeb to testify," Col. Roosevelt declared, "I am more than pleased that the committee chooses to do so.

"For instance when I made my statement about Mr. Harriman during Mr. Harriman's life time, I let it rest only on my written letters, yet as the committee has chosen to listen to hearsay gossip by Mr. Odell and Mr. Archbold as to what Mr. Harriman said took place at that interview, I shall be glad to have them listen to Mr. Loeb, who was present at the interview. Mr. Loeb heard Mr. Harriman ask me to get Mr. Bliss or Mr. Cortelyou to contribute funds to himself and Mr. Odell for the campaign. (Neither Mr. Harriman or I ever so much has spoke of Mr. Harriman contributing to my campaign,) and Mr. Loeb himself telephoned to either Mr. Bliss or Mr. Courtelyou transmitting Mr. Harriman's request to me. Mr. Loeb telephoned to Mr. Bliss and Mr. Cortelyou about the alleged Standard Oil contribution, making in my behalf the same request that I had made directly in the two letters and telegrams that have been published and receiving the same assurances that I had received that no Standard Oil money had been received or would be received."

Concerning the statement made by William Randolph Hearst yesterday in London, in which Mr. Hearst urged him and Mr. Archbold and Senator Penrose to tell "The full story" Col. Roosevelt had this to say:

"My attitude to the Standard Oil company was precisely the same before the election as after election as any one can find out by turning to the files of the newspapers at the time of the passage of the bureau of corporations bill, before I was nominated or elected when the Standard Oil opposed the law and I got it through by making public the telegrams of the Standard Oil people opposing the law and showing their activity.

"As for any connection of mine with

GOV. WILSON'S PLAN APPROVED

Few Campaign Addresses But Nothing Like a Stumping Tour.

LABOR DAY SPEECH

Sea Girt, N. J., Aug. 26.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson's plan for making only a few scheduled campaign addresses and no stumping tours met with the approval of the members of the campaign committee with whom the governor conferred at national democratic headquarters in New York today. I am only to speak on particular occasions," announced the governor, "and there is to be no stumping tour."

He will open his campaign in New York with a speech on Labor day at Buffalo.

"I have a speech in my system about workingmen," said the governor, "which I have intended to get out for some time."

GOING BACK INTO PAST TEN YEARS

Detroit Graft Inquiry to Be Thorough in Its Scope.

18 ARE NOW ACCUSED

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26.—With the arraignment in police court today of 17 aldermen and former Council Committee Clerk Edward R. Schreiter, self confessed receiver of bribe money, Prosecuting Attorney Shepherd hopes to be able to probe into past doings of the city council and determine if possible whether so-called councilmanic grafting has been a constant practice during the past decade.

All of the men to be arraigned today with the exception of Schreiter were previously arrested on charges of either accepting or promising to accept bribes for municipal favors. The latest warrant alleges that the 18 men conspired to defraud the city.

A long confession which Schreiter recently made to the prosecutor in which he is said to have implicated many aldermen and former city officials, is claimed to be the basis for the latest move against the accused members of the common council.

After the arraignment proceedings are disposed of it is expected the preliminary examinations of Alderman Louis Tossey charged with receiving money will be commenced. Detective Brannen who declares that he, while posing as a Wabash railroad official, bribed Tossey, will probably be the principal witness for the prosecution.

DIE TOGETHER BY ACID ROUTE

Lafayette Couple Swallows Poison in Hotel at Kankakee, Ill.

MAN DESERTED WIFE

Kankakee Ill. Aug. 26.—A young woman believed to be Pearl Miley from Lafayette Ind., and a young man believed to be Ross Morgan of Gilman, registering at the Commercial hotel as Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Long, of Lafayette, committed suicide at 8:15 o'clock today by swallowing carbolic acid. The act was premeditated, the couple addressed unsigned letters to various friends telling them of the proposed intent. The woman first swallowed the poison and the man rushed to the office and called for a doctor, and rushed back to the room and swallowed a quantity of the acid.

BOTH FROM LAFAYETTE.

Morgan Left Wife and Babe But Two Days Old.

Lafayette Ind., Aug. 26.—Ross Morgan and Pearl Miley, who committed suicide at Kankakee this morning were both from this city. Morgan was married and leaves a widow and child two days old. He became infatuated with the Miley girl who is a divorcee but took her maiden name afterward. They left here Friday evening and evidently planned the double suicide before leaving as the Miley girl told a neighbor she would never return and would be heard from later. Morgan was employed in an automobile garage here. He lived here for a year. The Miley family came here from Yorktown, Ind., several months ago.

WOUND PROVES FATAL.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 26.—Lee Wrighthouse, of Jeffersonville, Ind., who was shot Saturday night by J. D. Phillips, conductor of a Big Four freight train, died in a hospital here last night. Phillips is under arrest. He claims that Wrighthouse and three other men he put off his train, just west of this city, attacked him and that he fired in self defense.

GOES TO THE GALLOWS AT 70 YEARS OF AGE.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 26.—A seventy-year-old man was hanged here today. The state's victim was George Rose, recently convicted for the murder of a neighboring planter, J. M. Miller, in Mc-Minn county. One of Rose's sons is in prison for murder. He promised Rose he would "even up things" when he had received his fifteen year sentence.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 26.—Three persons lost their lives during a terrific wind and rain storm that swept over the city today.

Virgil Bellows, 23, one of a party aboard the yacht Red Head, was knocked overboard by a swinging boom and drowned.

Michael Sheer, forty, was struck down in his bedroom by a bolt of lightning as he closed a window.

John Mulnix, 66, was killed by lightning on his way to work.

Trees were blown down and much property loss suffered.

PUTS BLAME ON BUMPER CROPS

Obstruct View of Crossings and Cost Lives in Indiana.

AS SHANE SEES IT

Columbus, Ind., Aug. 26.—Alexander Shane, general manager of the Indianapolis, Columbus and Southern Traction company, blames the bumper corn crop in Indiana this year for the loss of perhaps a dozen lives and he predicts that other lives will be sacrificed to the corn before it is harvested. Shane points out that the corn has grown so tall that grade crossings on both steam and traction lines are hidden to view. Several accidents this summer, the cause being the inability of people driving across the tracks to see approaching trains or cars because of high corn shutting off their view. He says a traction car makes but little noise and that as a result are more dangerous than steam crossings.

Efforts will be made to have the farmers cut such corn as obstructs a view of the track.

CONFERENCE OPPOSES IT.

Methodist Protestants Will Not Give $15,000 to Muncie Church.

Shelbyville, Ind., Aug. 26.—The Indiana conference of the Methodist Protestant church which closed today did not look with favor on giving $15,000 toward the erection of the $45,000 church in course of construction at Muncie. The proposition was that the conference give $5,000 and go security for $10,000. If the $5,000 asked for was appropriated then Muncie was to become the permanent meeting place of the conference and the ministers were to be entertained free at every conference session which meets annually.

NOW NEARING ADJOURNMENT

Senate Adopts Penrose Resolution Without Debate.

EARLIER SCENES ARE NOT REPEATED

Chamberlain Gives Way to Postponement of the State Claims.

Washington, Aug. 26.—With Senator La Follette holding the threat of a filibuster that would indefinitely prolong the session of congress, the senate today passed without a roll call the Penrose resolution to have the Clapp committee investigating campaign funds inquire into "correspondence or financial transactions between John D. Archbold, George W. Perkins, Col. Theodore Roosevelt and members of congress."

The scenes of Saturday night and early Sunday morning, when every parliamentary usage was put forth to keep the Penrose resolution from coming to a vote, were in no way repeated today. Leaders of both sides declared this forecast an adjournment probably tonight.

The only other possibility of delay was on the general deficiency bill, but leaders had reached an agreement to leave the disputed "state claims" out of the measure until next session, which was expected to be fulfilled. This was said to be agreeable to the house. Senator Chamberlain, who had threatened to keep congress in session unless the claims were included in the bill this year, gave way to this plan.

The house practically had no business under consideration and only waited on the senate.

Resolution as Amended.

As finally amended, the resolution authorizes the Clapp committee to probe the following points:

The statement of Senator Penrose made in the senate regarding the Standard Oil company's campaign contributions to the republican national committee in 1904.

Expenditures and contributions in the campaign for presidential nominations this year.

Financial transactions and correspondence relating thereto, between John D. Archbold and members of the senate and house.

Financial transactions and correspondence relating thereto between George D. Perkins, Col. Roosevelt and members of the senate and house.

Fix Hour at 4:30 o'Clock.

The house took a recess at 2:25 o'clock until 3:25 on the theory that the senate would be caught up and an adjournment soon would follow.

At 3:15 o'clock President Taft left the white house for the capitol, expecting to go from there to the 5:35 o'clock train to start for Beverly.

At 3:25 the senate adopted a concurrent resolution to adjourn congress at 4:30. It was sent to the house, where there was little doubt it would speedily be agreed upon. Immediately upon the passage of the resolution the senate went into executive session.

PAVING WAY TO QUIT.

Situation in Congress Most Remarkable of Recent Years.

Washington, August 26.—Senator Chamberlain, of Oregon, today abandoned his filibuster against adjournment of congress on provision that the general deficiency bill carrying "state claims," in which Oregon has an interest, go over until December. The house is believed to be agreeable to that. Senator La Follette's filibuster to force a vote on the Penrose resolution was then the only apparent obstacle to adjournment today.

"If it is decided to let the bill go until winter, I will consent to an adjournment," said Mr. Chamberlain. "I will not consent, however, to its passage without the state claims."

Maryland, Virginia and Texas also are interested.

Senate leaders began a conference just

DIES BEHIND PRISON BARS

Col. Wilson, Former Wireless Head, Succumbs in Penitentiary.

WAS SERVING A TERM FOR FRAUD

Millionaire Whose Assets Faded to Gold Watch and Cuff Links.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 26.—Col. C. C. Wilson, 67, former president of the United Wireless company, died last night at 10 o'clock in the United States penitentiary here, where he was serving a three years' sentence for using the mails in attempt to defraud. Uraemic poisoning was given as the cause of the colonel's death.

Col. Wilson was stricken while reading in the prison library at 7:50 o'clock last night. He was removed to the hospital, where he died. Prison officials said today that Col. Wilson had been enjoying good health up to yesterday. The colonel's young wife, to whom he was married just before his conviction, a little more than a year ago, has been notified.

Col. Wilson began serving his sentence on Aug. 23, 1911. He was taken to New York last May by one of the prison guards to testify in bankruptcy proceedings instituted against the United Wireless company. Several postponements of the case necessitated his being held in New York for more than a month and it became known that the guard was allowing him a great deal of personal liberty during that period. Instead of being kept in the Tombs he was permitted to stay in a private house. On one occasion, is is said, he was seen near his former haunts in Wall street.

The department of justice took notice of these reports and instituted an investigation. The guard was dismissed and early last month Wilson was returned to the Atlanta penitentiary.

TANGLE STILL REMAINS.

New York, Aug. 26.—Col. Christopher Columbus Wilson's death in the Atlanta penitentiary leaves his financial affairs still unsettled and a tangle of litigation growing out of the failure of the United Wireless Telegraph company, of which he was president, to be adjusted.

After his incarceration the Colonel was brought here to testify in bankruptcy proceedings and in May last he produced a schedule showing how he had spent more than a million dollars in four years. He also testified that although worth half a million dollars in 1909 his wealth had shrunk to a gold watch and a pair of cuff links. Col. Wilson lived regally before his conviction, but the receiver's search for assets has been almost a fruitless task.

MAKES NEW FORTUNE THOUGH A PRISONER.

New York, Aug. 26.—Joseph G. Robin, who is in the tombs awaiting sentence following his conviction for grand larceny in connection with the wrecking of the Northern bank, is said to have made another fortune through speculation which he carried on while a prisoner. With a view that Robin could furnish valuable information in the case now pending against former City Chamberlain Hyde, the former president of the Northern bank was not sentenced after his conviction, but was kept in the Tombs, and during the day time it is reported he occupied a room in the criminal courts building, which is equipped with a telephone and typewriter. Here it is said he has rebuilt his wrecked fortune.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH TEXAS? WHY, TOO MANY COLONELS, SAYS STILL.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 26.—Henry Clay Still is very loud and noisy and vociferous on the colonel question. He's dead set agin' any and all colonels—that is, volunteer colonels, not the regular sure-enough article. And he's making a race for governor of Texas on that platform.

"There are entirely too many colonels in this state, and all through the south, with Kentucky leading by a big majority, but Texas is coming up at a good gait," said "Private" H. Clay Still to an assorted conglomeration of colonels the other day.

Of course, his idea doesn't take well with the colonels, but it listened fine to the privates.

"Why," snorted Still, "in the last state democratic convention three out of four men were called 'colonels.' Some of them were not old enough to have been in the Spanish-American war.

"There are no privates left in the south any more." But here Still was slightly exaggerating. He prides himself on being a mere private, although he is a veteran of a real war; and there is another private living near Dallas, and one in San Antonio, too.

Still wants a law forbidding every Tom-Dick-and-Harry being a colonel, restricting the privilege of wearing that title to those who bore it in times of national peril.

There being quite a few colonels in the democratic party in the state, Still running as a sort of free lance candidate, keeping the lance free to prod the colonel-of-peace he meets up with.

PRIVATE HENRY CLAY STILL, WHO IS RUNNING FOR GOVERNOR OF TEXAS ON AN ANTI-COLONEL PLATFORM.

Something New in Sodas

ED GRIFFITH has charge of the refreshment room of the Hazenhurst hotel at Clear Lake. They serve ice cream and sodas as well as a variety of other things, and the place is a popular one, especially because it is conducted in connection with the new dancing floor which has been added to the hotel this season.

The other day, while the place was pretty well filled and customers were plentiful, a young man from Fort Wayne, coming into the room as the escort of one of our city's charming daughters, waited patiently for their turn to be waited on. He seemed a little bit bashful, but when Mr. Griffith turned to him he said that he and "she" would like a glass of ice cream soda apiece.

"And what will it be?" asked Mr. Griffith, glancing from one to the other.

"Ah—er—what odors have you?" asked the young man.

Whereupon the girl tittered and Ed smiled.

"Oh, I mean what flavors have you," corrected the young man, and then everybody laughed.

They took strawberry flavor, and that, probably, is what made his cheeks turn so nice and pink.

"And what will it be?"

HENRY GUENTHER CALLED BY DEATH

Well Known German Citizen Dies After Short Illness of Meningitis.

THE OTHER DEATHS

Henry Guenther, aged sixty-one years, one of Fort Wayne's best known German residents, died at midnight Saturday at the family residence, 915 Maumee avenue. Death was due to meningitis and followed an illness of five weeks' duration.

Mr. Guenther was prominent in local German societies, and for the last sixteen years had served as secretary of the Breuderliehter Unterstentzungs verein. He was an active member of St. Paul's German Lutheran church. Mr. Guenther was a barber by trade and had conducted a shop on Maumee avenue for twenty-six years.

The deceased was born in Germany, and came to America thirty-five years ago, locating at Kendallville, where he was engaged in the tailoring business for two years. Coming to Fort Wayne about thirty years ago he accepted employment in the old Meyer barber shop on Calhoun street and there learned his trade.

Surviving besides the widow are the following children: Mrs. Clara Hough, Mrs. Emma Waterman and Henry Guenther, jr. There are also six grandchildren.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, and at 2:30 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. Jacob Miller officiating. Interment at Concordia cemetery.

LENEMAN.

Mrs. Rose Leneman aged seventy-eight years, died Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Wieneke, 1328 Rockhill street. Death was due to infirmities of old age.

The deceased had resided in Fort Wayne many years. She was a member of St. John's Lutheran church, and until forced by ill health to remain at home, was an active worker in the affairs of the congregation. She was known and loved by hundreds in this city.

Surviving are two daughters and a son—Mrs. Nicholas Hausbach and Mrs. H. H. Wieneke and John Leneman, all of this city. There are also three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, and at 2:30 o'clock from St. John's Lutheran church. In the absence of Rev. H. P. Dannecker, Rev Brandt, of the Grace church will officiate. Interment at St. John's cemetery

TIBBET.

Bernard Tibbet, aged seventy years, is dead at his home near New Haven. Death followed an illness extending over a period of more than seven years.

Mr. Tibbet was born in 1842, and was married in 1870 to Miss Josephine Trepsing. One child was born to the union, but both the mother and child died many years ago. In 1890 the deceased was married to Caroline Reulie, and eight children were born to this union. Seven survive with the mother. They are John, Clarence, Alice, Anna, Edward, Eugene and Agnes Tibbet.

Funeral services Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, standard time, from St. John's Catholic church, of which the deceased was a member. He was also a member of St. John's Benevolent society, and the Knights of Columbus. For six years he served as trustee of Adams township.

Col. Roosevelt said he had received today a telegram from Senator Clapp advising him of the inability of the committee to have him testify today. He said the telegram said that if he should testify it would have to be at a considerably later date.

The general deficiency bill carries about $6,000,000. The government's other creditors for that amount, including merchants in many cities who have advanced supplies to the army and navy, will have to wait until December for their pay if the measure is held over.

After repeated conferences senate leaders announced an understanding by which the senate was to recede from its demand for the immediate payment of the contested "state claims" in the general deficiency bill, but providing that the claims be included in the next general deficiency bill.

Neither Has Quorum.

Neither house nor senate assembled on time and neither mustered a quorum. It was said only forty-six senators were in the city, lacking two of a quorum. One of these, Senator Heyburn, was reported ill.

The first tilt in the senate was over the reading of the Journal of Saturday's all-night session. Senator La Follette insisted on its being read in full.

The house spent its first hour doing practically nothing. Majority Leader Underwood declared that he and Speaker Clark would stay in Washington and "keep house" all summer if necessary, unless the senate got through with its filibuster.

In the senate Mr. La Follette gave an early evidence of his intentions to push the Penrose resolution to consideration. He made one unsuccessful attempt to bring it up before it had been reached in the proper order of parliamentary procedure.

Gets It Before Senate.

Senator LaFollette finally got the Penrose resolution before the senate and following its perfection with several minor amendments, Senator Bailey spoke against it on the grounds of unconstitutionality he had advanced Saturday. This brought LaFollette's fight for a record vote on the Archbold-Penrose-Roosevelt controversy directly before the senate.

Leaders of the house and senate prepared for today's session, little knowing whether the sixty-second congress would end tonight or continue for a week. With a double filibuster promised in the senate and the house standing like a rock against the "state claims" in the general deficiency bill, no one could accurately forecast the day's developments. Some leaders predicted one part of the situation might be solved by letting the general deficiency bill go by the board and wait for the next congress.

Filibuster Still Alive.

The La Follette filibuster to compel a vote on the Penrose resolution to broaden the scope of the Clapp committee's investigations of campaign contributions referred to in the Archbold-Penrose controversy was still alive today. Failing to get a vote on that resolution, the Wisconsin progressive was still of a mind to prevent an adjournment by making the point of no quorum. Meanwhile President Taft, with vacation plans set awry, remained at the white house while the leaders wrestled with the problem. When the tired lawmakers rested from the tedious all night session of Saturday and early Sunday and ready to go at it again, a few felt that a way would be found out of the tangle before noon, the hour at which both houses were scheduled to convene. It was the most extraordinary situation of recent years.

Demands Investigation.

A demand for an investigation of the election of Senators Chilton and Watson, of West Virginia, was made in a petition signed by Governor Glasscock and others presented to the senate through Senator Gallinger, the presiding officer. The petition called attention to charges of bribery publicly made in reference to the election of the two senators.

A request for the reading of the petition was made by Senator Penrose before its contents were known. When the document had been partially read Senators Bailey and Bacon objected to the printing of its allegations in the public records of the senate before they had been investigated by the committee on privileges and elections.

Rebuked by Clark.

Representative Focht, of Pennsylvania, republican, was rebuked by Speaker Clark today for his words in attacking Chairman Burnett of the immigration committee, for inserting a speech in the record Saturday night critical of the Pennsylvanian and his immigration bill. Focht charged that Mr. Burnett waited to insert his speech Saturday in the belief that adjournment would prevent a reply.

Mr. Focht's characterization of Mr. Burnett's act grew increasingly bitter until Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, democrat, insisted that the strong language should be stricken from the record, while Representative Clayton, democrat, of Alamaba, denounced the use of "epithets and opprobrious words."

BULLETIN.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Congress adjourned at 4:39 o'clock this afternoon. President Taft at 4:16 o'clock signed the general deficiency bill.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

Dr. E. R. Kibler, Miss Margaret Carroll, of Johnstown, Pa., and Misses Catherine and Marie Tepas, of Lakewood, O., were guests yesterday of Frank J. Schulte.

A case of diphtheria has been reported in the August Tassler family living south east of the city, to County Health Officer Van Buskirk.

CHILD ELOPERS CAN'T BE WEDDED

Wanderings of Youthful Pair in St. Louis Fail to Find Parson.

THE GIRL IS SIXTEEN

St. Louis, Aug. 26.—Dressed as a boy, Margaret Rubelmann, the sixteen-year-old sweetheart of Baarent Tenbrock, jr., eighteen years old, escaped afoot with Tenbrock from the Southern hotel at St. Mary's, Mo., just before it was searched by an officer under the direction of Tenbrock, sr. Mr. Tenbrock appeared to be heartbroken when he learned of their escape.

"My boy, my boy!" he said. "Why did he do this?"

With his arms around Margaret, Baarent Tenbroke, jr., whose father and Mrs. Rubelman reached St. Mary's from St. Louis, a few hours earlier, in quest of their eloping children, avowed undying love for the girl and said that if it became necessary they would go to Europe and be married.

"Father cannot bluff me," said young Tenbrock. "I love this girl. She is good and pure and I have protected her in every way. I want her for my wife and will marry her at any cost."

Margaret said: "I love Baarent and want to marry him, and shall do so."

Tenbrock, sr., set out to search the woods and vicinity of the hotel for the young couple. While he was doing so they were sleeping in separate apartments in the hotel. The pair eloped five days ago, but have not succeeded in finding anyone who will marry them.

WILL DELIVER NO MAIL ON SUNDAY

Even General Delivery and Lock Boxes to Be Idle on the Sabbath.

A NEW SUB-STATION

In compliance with the rules of the new postoffice appropriation act, the local postoffice will make no more Sunday mail deliveries. No mail will be given out on Sundays at the general delivery window in the federal building and even those who have lock boxes will not be allowed to receive their mail on the Sabbath.

Rules governing this have been received by Postmaster Robert B. Hanna. Heretofore the general delivery window at the postoffice has been kept open between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock each Sunday morning. One mail delivery, to hotels and special business houses, was made Sunday evening, and lock box subscribers could get their mail during the day.

The new postoffice appropriation act provides:

"That hereafter postoffices of the first and second classes shall not be open on Sundays for the purpose of delivering mail to the general public, but this provision shall not prevent the prompt delivery of special delivery mail."

Under this act, the general delivery and lock boxes and all deliveries by carriers on Sunday shall hereafter be discontinued.

Salary Increases.

Carriers F. R. Reiling, H. D. Miller and S. L. Stover have received an increase in salary from $1,100 to $1,200 per year. Notification as to the increase in salaries of other clerks and carriers have not been received yet by Postmaster Hanna. The local office has also been granted a stenographer at a salary of $600 per year.

The recommendation of Postmaster Hanna for the establishment of a drug store station in Meyer Bros.' store at Broadway and Taylor streets was also approved and $50 per year is the figure named by the department. The new sub-station is to be opened October 1.

The salary of the clerk in charge of station No. 11, at the corner of Fairfield avenue and DeWald streets, was increased from $50 to $100 per year.

MEETING IN NEW BUILDING

SEVENTY ATTENDING

Between sixty-five and seventy-five agents from the four states of Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Indiana are in the city attending the annual Lincoln National Life Agency convention, which began this morning in the Lincoln Life building on East Berry street, recently acquired by the company.

The visiting agents are designated by the bronze badges and white ribbons on the coat lapels. They are the men in the territory in the above given four states who have reached a certain minimum in the amount of insurance written during the last six months.

The home company has made extensive arrangements for the entertainment of its guests, intending to show them a royal good time during their stay in the city. A smoker will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in the Commercial club, and tomorrow evening an auto ride will be followed by a banquet at 7:30 o'clock, also in the Commercial club.

The several days are being taken up with meetings in the assembly rooms of the new Lincoln Life building. The "get together" session was held this morning and this afternoon the agents gathered to hear talks by Arthur F. Hall, vice-president and general manager of the company; Walton H. Ingham, an active local agent; Oswin F. Gillium, of Berne, and Frank D. Johns, supervisor for northeastern Ohio, with his home in Cleveland.

Mrs. Albert Dickey, who has been a patient at the Hope hospital, has returned to her home at the corner of Lafayette and Lewis street, having recovered from her sickness.

Grocery stores will be closed all day Wednesday, Aug. 28, on account of Retail Grocers' picnic. 26-2t

HOLD SERVICES AT FIELD MEET

Members of Luther League Have a Glad Day at Homestead.

RESULTS OF CONTESTS

Young Lutherans to the number of nearly one thousand enjoyed a great day yesterday at Homestead, on the Huntington line of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Interurban. It was the occasion of the annual field day of the Luther leagues. Following divine service held in the grove at 10 o'clock, at which time Rev. Mr. Schutes, of Kokomo, delivered a sermon, a picnic dinner was served and the program of athletics and other contests was carried out. An evening service was held at 7 o'clock. A collection for the benefit of the Lutheran Orphans' home at Indianapolis was taken at the two services. The Arion band provided music for the day.

The baseball game between the teams of the Emmaus and the Zion's Luther leagues resulted in victory for the latter team: score, 19 to 10. Results of the other contests were as follows:

Hundred-yard dash — Schlegel, first; Elcks, second.

Two hundred-yard dash—Schlegel, first; Elcks, second.

Half-mile race—Reinking, first; Doell, second.

Four hundred and forty-yard dash—Reinking, first; Elcks, second.

Broad jump—Doell, first; Schlegel, second.

Tug of war—Team of Zion's Walther league, members, Wm. Reinking, John Reinking, Herman Lerch, Carl Hombrock and Fred Witte.

Girls' leap-year race—Miss Ella Snyder.

Potato race—Miss Lena Reincke.

Pie eating race for boys—Fred Walda.

Shoe race—Fred Martin.

Rooster catching contest — Herman Lerch.

HUNDREDS SEE SHOOTING.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—In sight of hundreds of persons going to work, Frank M. Otis twice shot and probably fatally wounded Miss Vlasta Musek as she was entering a State street department store early today. Otis then attempted to take his own life, but police wrested the gun away from him. Jealousy is given as the cause of the shooting.

In a tribute to Father Taylor, the eloquent sailor preacher of Boston, the New York Sun says: "We dare say that Melville and the author of 'Two Years Before the Mast,' and Clark Russell and Stevenson, of 'Treasure Island,' would pick Father Taylor for the chaplain of their Bethel in the Blessed Islwes."

TOO MUCH TALK IS CAUSE OF BATTLE

Girls in Packing House Start Feud Over Current Gossip.

EIGHT "MIX IT UP."

Kansas City, Aug. 26.—It is almost as chilly in the labeling room at the Armour packing plant as it is in the coolers. The girls who paste the bright labels on cans are divided into two warring factions. "Mame" doesn't even glance at "Sadie" as she passes her a can of hot tamales to be finished up with "Sadie's" paste brush. One-half of the girls haughtily ignore the other half and there is no more merry laughter over noonday lunches. About fifty American girls work in the labeling room. As might be imagined, the trouble started over too much talk.

One of the girls "made a remark" about another several days ago. A sister of the victim happened to hear of it. She "called" the gossiper. The war was on and the entire labeling room took sides.

Four of one faction met four of the "enemy" on the James street bridge, over the Kaw river, going home from work. The girl who started the talk, and the one who was talked about, each was accompanied by three constituents.

"You cat, you take back what you said about me," the one gossiped about exclaimed.

"Oh, I guess not take back," the one who had talked said, tantalizingly. "You just hold your breath until I do it."

The conversation did not proceed much further. The eight fought. Hairpins flew, hair was pulled, hair came down. Each of the labelers was after the other's hair. There were no serious injuries, but hairpins, false hair and hair ribbons were scattered about the bridge.

The girl who did the talking caused the arrest of the girl she talked about. The eight were in the municipal court. Four glared at four until their case was called, then all eight talked at once. The testimony from the various sources was to the effect that all were to blame.

"I don't know what to do about it," Judge Carlisle confessed when policemen finally restored order so the court could be heard. "This in itself should be a sufficient lesson against gossiping. You are all dismissed. Now try and make up."

A pair of fours, still glaring, left the courtroom, but there wasn't any "making up." The other girls in the labeling room have joined with one faction or the other, and although the labels are going on the cans the same as they always did, there is a decided coolness where formerly the most unconventional friendliness prevailed.

Messrs. Russell Polhamus, Wayne Harrod and Abbott Carter left this morning in the Polhamus automobile for Terre Haute, where they will attend the state convention of the Beta Phi Sigma fraternity during the remainder of the week.

THE COURTS.

Notes of the Courts.

Irvin Price, through Francis M. Price, has filed suit to recover $3,000 from Fred Soest. He says he was run down while he was riding his motorcycle, by Soest's automobile which was on the wrong side of the street at the time of the accident. Jesse Macbeth entered the suit.

Under the will of the late Catherine Hirschfelder, her estate is to be equally divided between her seven children after Clara and Edna Hirschfelder, two daughters, have had possession of the home for two years.

Vermonter's Failure.

"The inefficient are necessarily the disobliging," said A. Munsey, apropos of a political leader who had failed.

"A middle-aged failure got a summer job in a Vermont general store last month. A boy came in one morning and asked him for half a pound of melted maple sugar, the famous Vermont dainty, at the same time laying a pot on the counter.

"The inefficient failure, without weighing the pot first, ladled a lot of the sticky syrup into it, then, of course, when he set the pot on the scales, it went down with a bang. Finally he ladled out all he could—but, again, bang went the scales.

"Then the man returned the boy the pot and said:

"Go back home and tell your ma, sonny, we can't make a half-pound of maple sugar."

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORING TOWNS

NEW SYSTEM AT AUBURN JUNCTION

Interlocker Will Control Crossing of Three Steam Roads and Electric Line.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 26.—A force of men is expected any day to put in an interlocker at Auburn Junction to meet the requirements of the public, the request of the state railroad commission and to better facilitate the handling of trains at this place, where four roads cross each other. Such a place is hard to find in the state where so many trains are operated by the antique system as at the Junction, and the construction of an interlocker will be most welcome.

A building for storage purposes is being built east of the Vandalia depot, but work on the interlocker tower will depend on the arrival of the gang of men engaged in such construction work.

The signal tower will be fifteen feet wide and fifty feet long and three stories high. In it there will be ninety-six levers, which will operate the signals and the switches for the three steam roads and one electric line.

HOLDING AN INSTITUTE.

Noble County Teachers in Session at Albion.

Albion, Ind., Aug. 26.—With 140 teachers in attendance, the annual Noble County Teachers' Institute opened here at 10 o'clock this morning.

A good program for each day of the institute has been arranged and County Superintendent Beane has secured good speakers and instructors for the occasion. C. O. White, who is at the head of the pedagogical department of the state normal school at Ypsilanti, Mich., and Miss Baylor, of Indianapolis, of the department of the state superintendent of public instruction, are the principal speakers. The former will lecture on the interesting subject, "History of Education," and the latter will treat the subject of English.

NOMINATE AT WARSAW.

Kosciusko County Democrats Nominate a Ticket.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 26.—Judge R. K. Erwin, of Fort Wayne, democratic nominee for judge of the Indiana supreme court, was one of the speakers at the democratic county convention Saturday at which the following ticket was nominated:

Richard Vanderveer, of Milford, for representative.

T. Wayne, Anglin, for prosecuting attorney.

Warren Koehler, for treasurer.

James Thompson, for sheriff.

H. L. Thomas, for surveyor.

Dr. J. M. Amis, for coroner

Lewis Neff, commissioner for Northern district

Levi Eaton, commissioner for Southern district.

FOR PHYSICIANS AND HOSPITALS

If Bright's Disease is incurable, how are we to account for letters like the following?

Mr. John Anderson, 660 Bryan Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas, wrote on December 6, 1910, from which we extract:

"I would like to have your opinion and will give you my symptoms. My legs, thighs and stomach are badly swollen. My doctor tried strong purgatives to relieve the dropsy, but to no purpose. Four months ago the swelling was so bad that my lungs were full and the elimination was almost solid with albumen. I was in bed three months previous to taking the Renal Compound. It has done me more good than anything else, but I am still bedfast."

Prescriptions were sent to aid the Compound to reduce the dropsy.

On January 27, 1911, Anderson again wrote as follows:

"I wish to thank you for the letter and prescriptions. I have completely recovered. I had a test made two days ago and am perfectly free from albumen. Barring weakness I feel as well as I ever did. I have been out of bed nine months. It has taken about twenty-five bottles to cure me. Of course I was in a terrible condition and the results have surprised all who knew how bad I was. I do not suppose you need a testimonial, but you are perfectly welcome to use my name if you wish."

The D. & N. Pharmacy is the local agent for Fulton's Renal Compound.

TRADITION

GERMAN AMERICAN NATIONAL BANK

¶ Tradition may serve all right as a mile post, but it is no good as a guide post. It is faced toward the past. It never leads and never advances.

¶ Tradition has been defined as "Salvation through ossification, a fetter for the foolish, a clock that tells what time it WAS, a method of holding back the many while some one does the thing which they declared impossible."

¶ This bank has no traditions. It is not a bank of yesterday, but a bank of today and tomorrow. It is a growing bank, but unlike growing potatoes the best part of it is not underground. It is not a "has been," it is an "isser."

¶ It has a savings department where 4 per cent is paid on book accounts.

RECEIVER FILES ROAD'S SCHEDULES

Assets and Liabilities of Marion, Bluffton and Eastern Traction Line.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 26.—A schedule of the liabilities, assets and alleged liabilities of the Marion, Bluffton and Eastern Traction company has been filed with the circuit court by Receiver L. C. Davenport, president of the Union Savings and Trust company.

The liabilities are scheduled as a bond issue of $850,000, of which $130,000 are held by the Marion Trust company and $720,000 issued; alleged liabilities in cases pending in court here, in Jay cunty, in Huntington county and in the appellate and supreme courts; $0 to 100 alleged claims growing out of the wreck at Marion on July 7, 1912, and a number of ditch liens not yet due.

Assets listed include the 32 miles of tracks and buildings and equipment; an eight-year lease on Goldthwait park; cash on hand of $873.51; a certificate of deposit for $1,500, and a note of $1,250 against the Wells Construction company.

It is set out that all franchises are for 99 to 50 years and that none of them contain "objectionable features."

MONTPELIER NEWS.

Montpelier, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Elmer Keener, Wabash engineer, has gone to Alpena, Mich., on a business trip.

E. F. Frazier, Wabash engineer, and his son Edward, have just returned from a trip through the west. They attended the Frazier reunion held 95 miles west of Grand Falls, Mont., on the Frazier ranche. Mr. Frazier did some trout fishing in the mountain streams and has some great fish stories to tell.

The corner stone of the new Masonic temple was laid here Saturday with appropriate ceremonies by Thomas B. Guittean, most worshipful grand master of the grand lodge of Ohio. After the ceremonies Judge F. L. Hay, of Defiance, Ohio, delivered a brief but eloquet address.

WANT CLOSED SEASON.

Wawasee Association Asks Legislature to Take Action to Protect Fish.

Lake, Wawasee, Ind., Aug. 26.—The annual meeting of the Wawasee Protective association was held at The Inn with a fair attendance. It was reported that between 150,000 and 200,000 bass of the proper size—from 2 to 4 inches in length—had been distributed—two-thirds to Wawasee lake and one-third to Papageechie.

A resolution was passed asking the state legislature, through the fish game commissioner, to establish a closed season for fishing on certain portions of the lakes throughout the state.

FRAZURE WILL RECOVER.

Albian Man Hurt at Wolf Lake Onion Carnival Is Improving.

Wolf Lake, Ind., Aug. 26.—Jason Frazure, of Albion, who was trampled by a horse when the animal plunged into a crowd of spectators at the onion carnival Friday afternoon, is recovering and will be able to be taken to his home in a few days. It was at first believed Frazure, who is 65 years of age, had been fatally hurt, and rumors of his death were in circulation. He escaped with severe cuts and bruises, but no bones were broken.

DECATUR PICKS A SLOGAN.

"Decatur Can and Will" is Mootto Chosen by Home-Comers.

Decatur, Ind., Aug. 26.—"Decatur Can and Will" is the slogan chosen from three hundred suggestions sent to the Home-Coming committee. Second and third prizes went to those who proposed "Decatur Knows How" and "Decatur Defies Defeat."

TO WED HUNTINGTON GIRL.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 26.—Early in September Miss Laura Gill will become the bride of Arthur Charter, of Crestline, Ohio, a Pennsylvania brakeman running into Fort Wayne. Miss Gill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Gill, of 436 West Taylor street. She is a most estimable young lady and as an operator in the exchange nearly five years made many friends with her patrons, who will miss her happy "Number?" The couple will make their home in Crestline after a wedding trip through the east.

NAMED AS CO-RESPONDENT.

Bluffton, Ind., Aug. 26.—Donald Merchant, a young man living at Zanesville, Wells county, is named as co-respondent in the sensational divorce case of Merle Thornburg against his wife, Chloe Thornburg, of Huntington county. Merchant, it appears, was a suitor for the hand of Mrs. Thornburg and she "turned him down" for Thornburg, and in a few days regretted her action. Thornburg openly accuses his wife and Merchant with adultery.

SUFFERED THIRD ATTACK.

Auburn, Ind., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Nelson Tustison, of near St. Joe, suffered a third attack of paralysis at about 9 o'clock Saturday morning, just as she and Mr. Tustison were preparing to leave for a picnic being held in the vicitnity of St. Joe.

TAKES RAP AT ALL THE REST

ly financed and shrewdly advertised. But it stands for the rule of capitalism all the same.

"When the owners of the trusts finance a party to put themselves out of business; when they turn over their wealth to the people from whom they stole it and go to work and make an honest living, it will be time enough to consider the merits of the Roosevelt progressive party.

"One question is sufficient to determine the trust status of all these parties. Do they want the workers to own the tools they work with, control their own jobs, and secure to themselves the wealth they produce? Certainly not. That is utterly ridiculous and impossible from their point of view.

Others All Alike.

"The republican, democratic and progressive parties all stand for the private ownership by the capitalists of the productive machinery used by the workers, so that the capitalists can continue to filch the wealth produced by the workers.

"The socialist party is the only party which declares that the tools of labor belong to labor and that the wealth produced by the working class belongs to the working class.

"Intelligent workingmen are no longer deceived. They know that the struggle in which the world is engaged today is a class struggle and that in this struggle the workers can never win by giving their votes to capitalist parties. They have tried this for many years and it has always produced the same results to them.

"The class of privilege and pelf has had the world by the throat and the working class beneath its iron-shod hoofs long enough. The magic word of freedom is ringing through the nation and the spirit of intelligent revolt is finding expression in every land beneath the sun.

The Silent Force.

"The solidarity of the working class is the silent force in the social transformation of which we behold the signs upon every hand. Nearer and nearer they are being drawn together in the bonds of unionism; clearer and clearer becomes their collective vision; greater and greater grows the power that throbs within them.

"They are the twentieth century hosts of freedom who are to destroy all despotisms, topple over all thrones, seize all sceptres of authority and hold them in their own strong hands, tear up all privilege by the roots and consecrate the earth and all its fulness to the joy and service of all humanity.

"It is vain to hope for material relief under the prevailing system of capitalism. All the reforms that are proposed by the three capitalist parties, even if carried out in good faith, would still leave the working class in industrial slavery.

"The working class will never be emancipated by the grace of the capitalist class, but only by overthrowing that class.

"The power to emancipate itself is inherent in the working class and this power must be developed through sound education and applied through sound organization.

"It is foolish and self-destructive for workingmen to turn to republican, democratic and progressive parties on election day as it would be for them to turn to the Manufacturers' association and the Citizens' alliance when they are striking against starvation wages.

The Capitalist Class.

"The capitalist class is organized economically and politically to keep the working class in subjection and perpetuate its power as a ruling class. They do not support a working class union nor a working class party. They are not so foolish. They wisely look out for themselves.

"The capitalist class despise a working class party. Why should the working class give their support to a capitalist class party?

"Capitalist misrule under which workingmen suffer slavery and the most galling injustice exists only because it has workingmen's support. Withdraw that support and capitalism is dead.

"The capitalists can enslave and rob the workers only by the consent of the workers when they cast their ballots on election day.

"Every vote cast for a capitalist party, whatever its name, is a vote for wage-slavery, for poverty and degradation.

"Every vote cast for the socialist party, the workers' own party, is a vote for emancipation.

We appeal to the workers and to all who sympathize with them to make their power felt in this campaign. Never before has there been so great an opportunity to strike an effective blow for freedom.

"Capitalism is rushing blindly to its impending doom. All the signs portend the inevitable breakdown of the existing order. Deep-seated discontent has seized upon the masses. They must indeed be deaf who do not hear the mutterings of the approaching storm.

"Poverty, high prices, unemployment, child slavery, widespread misery and haggard want in a land spread with abundance; prostitution and insanity, suicide and crime, these in solemn numbers tell the tragic story of capitalism's saturnalia of blood and tears and shame as its end draws near.

To Abolish System.

"It is to abolish this monstrous system and the misery and crime which flow from it in a direful and threatening stream that the socialist party was organized and now makes its appeal to the intelligence and conscience of the people. Social reorganization is the imperative demand for this world-wide revolutionary movement.

"The socialist party's mission is not only to destroy capitalist despotism but to establish industrial and social democracy. To this end the workers are steadily organizing and fitting themselves for the day when they shall take control of the people's industries and when the right to work shall be as inviolate as the right to breathe the breath of life.

"Standing as it does for the emancipation of the working class from wage-slavery, for the equal rights and opportunities of all men and all women, for the abolition of child labor and the conservation of all childhood, for social self-rule and the equal freedom of all, the socialist party is the party of progress, the party of the future, and its triumph will signalize the birth of a new civilization and the dawn of a happier day for all humanity."

The Marvels of the Season.

These are great days. Wonders never cease, and the boys of the press never let up on reporting them. In olden times the events whereof we read slightingly as we turn from the political headlines to a careful study of the baseball scores, would have been accepted as omens, portents and evidences of the displeasure of the gods.

Policeman Thomas at Newcastle, Pa., the other day, heard a splash and a cry of anguish, and plunged into the Neshannock river to rescue a perishing maiden. When he had thrown his arms around the creature's neck, he found himself hugging a cow! Whether or not he saved her the dispatches do not say. We moderns fail to see in this a case of a fair maiden turned to a cow by magic. We are blase and weary of marvels.

Mr. Frye's auto accident at Elkhart is also passed by with no thought of the anger of Jove against the drivers of the impious cars which rival the chariots of Olympus. The car was a big red seven-passenger thing, and was charged by a bull, who tipped the machine over and necessitated garage charges to the amount of $78.43. And yet we deny the supernatural.

Somewhere in Indiana a cow was fording a pond when a big black bass took the floating bucktail lure of her tail, got his teeth entangled in the strands, and was landed by Bossy with perfect success. It was all in the papers just before the convention. Fred Henry, of Brooklyn, New York, was bitten by a pickerel and thinks he is threatened with rabies. He is having the pickerel's head examined by the Pasteur institute instead of offering oblations to the gods. He never looks to see if the "sign" was Pisces at the time. Think of the anguish of a fish with hydrophobia!,

The schooner James H. Bruce off southern California adds a marine touch to these moving accidents by flood and field. A whale sounded at the approach of the Bruce, and on rising shot up like a torpedo just alee of the vessel's bow. Astonished, the whale dove again, and turning, caught his tail in the rigging, spinning the ship around like a top, and scaring the crew out of their seven senses.

And there may be many other marvels abroad. A Bull Moose was knocked stiff by an Elephant in June. Rallying, the B. M. won a fierce return engagement in August.

Brethren of the press, these are stirring times. There was never an age which so abounded in marvels and liars.

Greatest Thing in the World.

"What is the greatest thing in the world?"

It was asked the scholar, and he gravely answered that learning is, for it comprehends all and promotes all.

It was asked the artist, and he cried. "Art, for it combines matter and spirit, both at their best."

The preacher solemnly declared: "Religion, because it is a light from heaven."

The lawyer argued: "Justice, for it is the soul of peace and progress."

"Money," said the banker. "It is the spring of all action."

The young man, full of hope and spirit, cried: "Ambition."

Out of his garnered wisdom the weary old toiler answered: "Content."

The pair of lovers, hand in hand, lisped together: "Love."

The mother with her baby at her breast smiled: "Sacrifice.

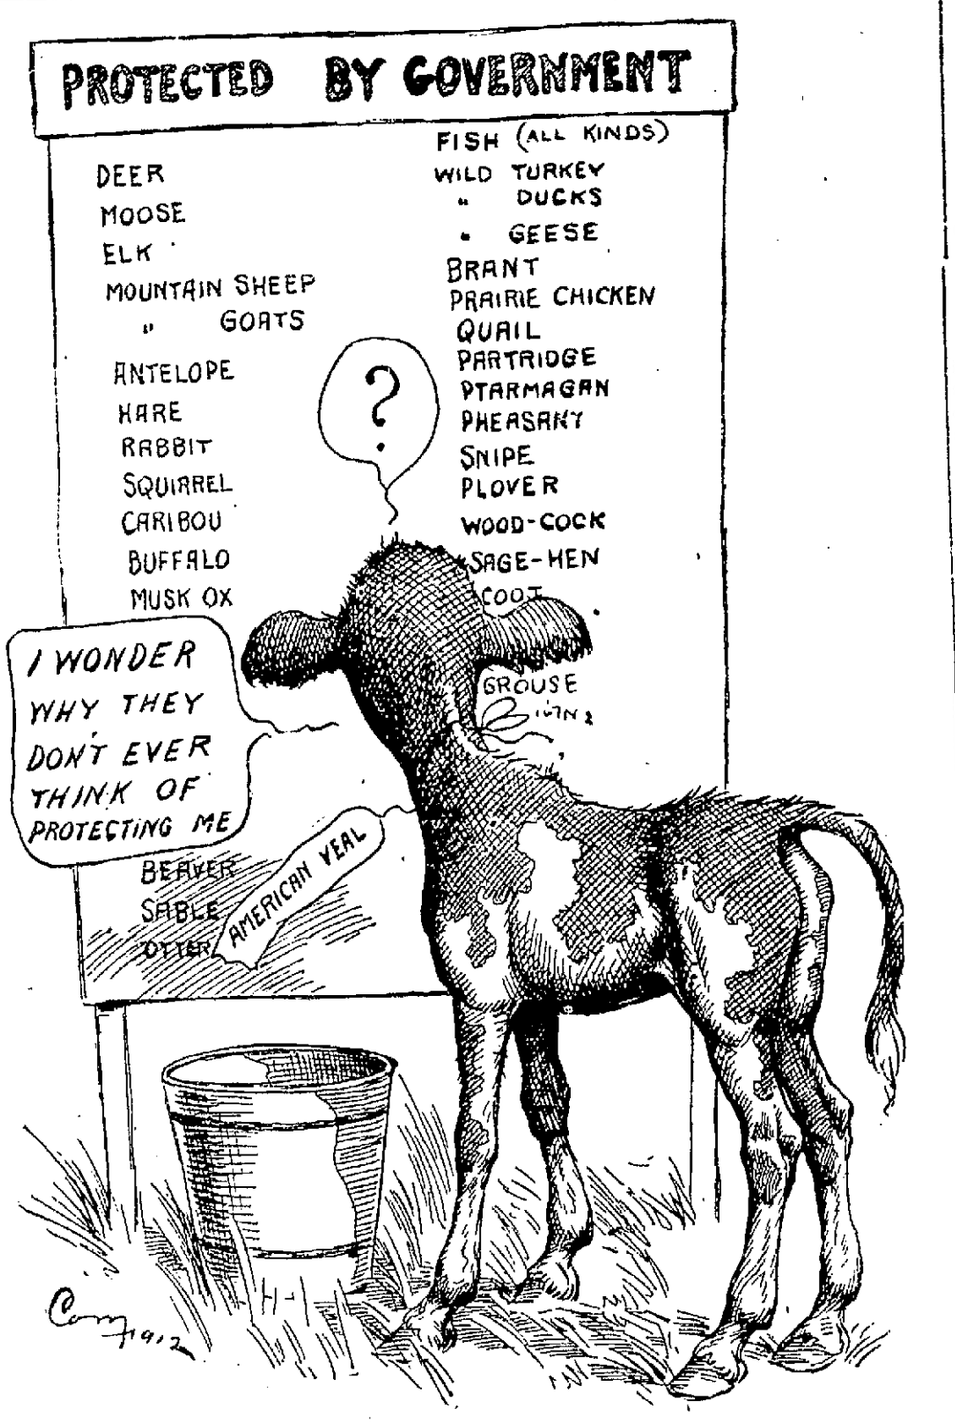
The wild roysterer cried: "Pleasure."

The wan invalid whispered: "Health."

To a shambling, grinning fool was put the question. He simpered and said: "I don't know."

And which, after all, is really the wiser of them all—from the scholar to the fool?

NO GAME LAWS FOR THE GREAT AMERICAN CALF.



TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

What the Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

An increase of pension has been granted to George W. Whitley of this city.

J. H. Bass went to Chicago this morning on business.

Charley Centlivre's fine Strathmore colt died yesterday.

A horse belonging to Gerding brothers was almost driven to death last night by parties who are unknown.

Rev. D. W. Moffat will return home September 1, and occupy his pulpit the Sunday following.

The Hon. Montgomery Hamilton is with his family at the northern Michigan resorts.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kalbacher and daughter have returned from a visit with friends at Milwaukee.

Col. R. S. Robertson and daughter, Mr. Al Irey, Miss Georgia Dignan and Miss Suttenfield are visiting with their friends at Monroeville.

The Berry Street Methodist Episcopal congregation is enjoying an excursion to Rome City today. About fifty went in the first section.

The congregation of St. Paul's M. E. church gave a social last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Habecker the east end. Three hundred people in the east end. Rev. Mr. Cooper wis in charge.

The committee appointed for piping natural gas to this city held a meeting last night. George Seavey presided and J. B. Monning acted as secretary. Addresses delivered by those present expressed many different opinions as the best way to get gas. The matter will be discussed further at a meeting of the Business Men's Exchange next Monday evening.

A merry party was held yesterday up the St. Joe river. The members returned last night on the Centlivre street car line. Those in the party were Miss Gaylord and Miss Cunningham, of San Antonio, Texas; Miss Allen, Minneapolis, Minn.; Miss Julia Sutermeister, of Kansas City; Miss Laura Lightfoot, Miss Daisy Hattersley, Miss Katie Brown, Miss Pauline Thieme, Miss Louise Robertson, Miss Grace White, Miss Clara Humphrey and Messrs. Rogers, Colerick, Thomas, Dougall, Nolton, Detzer, Charles, Kuhne, C. E. Crall, Fred and Lipes Thieme.

MEANING OF "AT HALF-MAST."

(Toronto Mail and Express.)

Perhaps you have noticed that whenever a prominent person dies, especially if he is connected with the government, the flags on public buildings are hoisted only part of the way up. This is called "half-mast." Did you ever stop to think what connection there could be between a flag that was not properly hoisted and the death of a great man?

Ever since flags were used in war it has been the custom to have the flag of the superior or conquering nation above that of the inferior or vanquished. When an army found itself hopelessly beaten it hauled its flag down for enough for the flag of the victors to be placed above it on the same pole. This was a token not only of submission, but of respect.

In those days, when a famous soldier died, flags were lowered out of respect to his memory. The custom long ago passed from purely military usage to public life of all kinds, the flag flying at half-mast being a sign that the dead man was worthy of universal respect. The space left above it is for the flag of the great conqueror of all—the Angel of Death.

GOVERNOR WILSON'S DREADFUL PAST.

(New York World.)

To his criminal past Governor Wilson might as well plead guilty. There is really nothing else to it.

In years gone by he has been called "Professor" Wilson, as Chairman Hilles taunts him. He has borne the name of "Doctor" Wilson, with which Vice President Sherman brands him. He even was a "schoolmaster," as Representative Mann reminds him to his shame.

Governor Wilson can never hope to make atonement for these misdeeds. He can never blot out his wicked record. It will pursue him all through life and to the brink of the grave. But at least he can confess openly and frankly that all the charges against him are true and throw himself on the mercy of his republican opponents.

If any of them reproach him with having been known in the past as "President" Wilson, he can only let it pass. What they fear most is that his title may soon again be President Wilson.

One of the most common ailments that hard working people are afflicted with is lame back. Apply Chamberlain's Liniment twice a day and massage the parts thoroughly at each application, and you will get quick relief. For sale by all dealers.

GOOD ADVICE TO NEGROES AND OTHERS.

(Kansas City Times.)

Booker Washington gave some advice to negroes at the thirteenth session of the National Negro Business league in Chicago this week that is equally good for white men.

"I do not want members of our race to be merely skimming around over the outer edges, obtaining odd and uncertain jobs," said he, "but I want them to get at the bottom of the fundamental industries and stand among the leading producers. Activity in these directions will bring to us influence and usefulness that no political party can give or take away from us. Before it is too late I want my race to lay hold on the primary source of wealth and civilization."

In his audience was a negro who is making $7,000 to $10,000 a year out of the fish and oyster business in Florida; another who owns half a million dollars' worth of real estate in New England, and another who possess $50,000 in Mississippi farm lands. He thus had living examples before him of the possibilities of success for competent and industrious negroes.

Of course it goes without saying that many negroes and also many white men do not have the opportunities or the initiative to accomplish these material successes. Nevertheless, it is good advice for any man—to lay hold on the fundamentals of success in life and by industry, frugality and constant watchfulness for opportunities, work up in the scale of material possessions by performing services for which people are willing to pay.

DRUG LAW DEFECTIVE.

(New York Times.)

The Times has again and again called attention to the fact that the federal drug law is vitally defective in two respects, namely, that an adulterated medicine is permitted in interstate commerce if sold under any name not included in the restricted lists of the Pharmacopoeia or the national Formulary, and, second, a medicine may be sold below the standard recognized by law and science if its formula is printed on the label. Of course, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, the purchaser does not know what the proper formula is. Congressman Richardson has provided for these two defects in his bill, providing that in every case the legal standard shall be printed together with the "sub-standard," so that the purchaser shall know the difference. Also, it prohibits the adulteration of a drug under any name.

Until these faults of the first magnitude are corrected the law will hardly operate to protect the sick of the nation. Prof. Irving Fisher, president of the committee of one hundred on national health, estimates that there are at least 3,000,000 sick persons in the United States, and that their number is constantly recruited. The importance of guarding the purity and strength of their medicines can hardly be overestimated.

Last Vacation Romp is on Wednesday, August 28th.

A special day at the park could hardly take place without hundreds of kiddies writing Mr. Williams that they were looking forward to the event. These letters have been the real compensation for all the labor and planning on Mr. Williams' part. He has expressed his appreciation for the children's good will and kind thoughts in the past by awarding prizes on all fete days. He will give forty-two prizes on August 28; twenty-one for girls and twenty-one for boys. Try to tell Mr. Williams in your letters about the sports, games and things you like best, so he will know how to entertain you next summer. The first prize for best letter written by a girl will be a diamond ring. The first prize for best letter written by a boy will also be a diamond ring. The other prizes will be gold scarf pins of Pompeian designs for the boys and solid gold rings for the girls.

MURDERED BY MEXICANS.

Cousin of Mrs. J. B. Harper is Brutally Put to Death.

Rowan Ayres, aged thirty-five years, a son of Dr. S. C. Ayres, noted eye specialist of Cincinnati, formerly of Fort Wayne, was brutally murdered in Central Mexico last week. The young man was a second cousin to Mrs. J. B. Harper, of this city. The young man was in charge of construction work on the Mexican Central railroad. He was walking along the tracks when set upon by a band of native bandits. The body was found later by a party of associate engineers.

President Taft, a warm friend of Dr. Ayres, has notified the state department to conduct a rigid investigation of the murder.

THE BUSINESS SYSTEM OF GOVERNMENT FOR INDIANA CITIES

AN IMPROVED PLAN FOR CITY GOVERNMENT
NON PARTISAN EXPERT EFFICIENCY
CONTROL BY THE PEOPLE

(By the Publicity Committee, Business System of Government State Organization.)

Serial No. 14.

Efficiency in Local Government.

When efficiency of local government is spoken of there is meant that all the things which ought to be done shall be done at the time and in the manner they should be done. Efficiency means all that can be imagined of official honesty, public economy or civic progress. No interests that touch the people are more in need of efficiency than the government of the cities. City rule is not a question of dividends for a few stockholders. It is a matter of the welfore of the whole community; the spending of funds to which the entire tax-paying body of the citizenship has contributed. This welfare should be conserver with all industry and wisdom, honesty and faithfulness. This money should be spent with all fidelity to each taxpayer's right to a just share of the proceeds of taxation. If government fail in its obligation of efficiency the people suffer and the community is retarded. The grade of efficiency that is applied to local government is the greatest factor in the civic and, in the long run, in the material progress of the city. It determines the cost of maintaining the city, the standard of maintenance and the degree of its people's well-being. The activities of government never cease. The cost of its shortcomings is always operating and always piling up. The grafter is not always grafting. The official who raids the treasury is not always looting. But inefficiency, wherever it performs, is constant in its work and everlasting in its effect. The penalty of it remains a cumulative tax upon the people for all time. It is a law of economics as well as physics that losses by waste can never be made up. The people of the cities should understand this. Waste of one sort and another by the inefficiencies of government deprives them of the things they should have but do not get. Splendid systems of parks and driveways, of public playgrounds and open places, of cleanliness and sanitation, of whatever the city's unsupplied needs may be, could all be procured and maintained by what is wasted through the inefficiencies of government. When the cities of America prescribe efficiency as one of the first principles of municipal rule all the practical problems of city management will have been put in the way of solution. The Business System of Government for Indiana cities proposes to wipe out inefficiency by abolishing parties and party politics in city affairs and establishing the administration of municipal government by experts.

GIRL DOES NOT RECALL JOY RIDE

Miss Hartly, Unconscious a Week, is Again Able to Talk.

SOME INDIANA NEWS

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 26.—Miss Mary Hartly, who has been unconscious since a "joy ride" with Carl East, a young married man, a week ago, was able to talk coherently, but said she remembered nothing of her almost fatal trip. She said the last she remembered was eating dinner in an uptown restaurant last Tuesday and that the salad made her deathly sick. She knew East, she said, but not intimately. The police are yet undecided as to what course to take with East.

LAFAYETTE BOY DROWNS.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 26.—Gordon Sale, 13, son of L. R. Sale, a leading business man, of West Lafayette, was drowned yesterday at Wildcat dam, five miles northeast of here. He and Harley Helwerda went to the creek on bicycles. Sale started to cross. When he reached midstream he cried for help, but Helwerda could not swim and the boy was drowned. A fisherman nearby heard the cries and recovered the body.

VANDALS WRECK HOME.

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 6.—Returning to her home at Lapel, after having buried her husband, Mrs. Juanita Reudabush found that vandals had almost entirely ruined her furnishings. Acid had been thrown on the carpets, pages torn from practically all the books in the library, flour scattered in the closet, chinaware broken and even the piano and other pieces of furniture smashed with an ax. Mrs. Reudabush said she had no idea who perpetrated the crime. The county authorities have started an investigation.

POLISH WOMEN MEET.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 26.—Two hundred and fifty delegates, representing eight states and 20,000 members of the Polish Women's National alliance, are in attendance at the ninth annual convention which opened here last night.

Addresses of welcome were made by Mrs. A. Neumann, president of the organization; Mayor Goetz, Judge G. A. Farabaugh and other city officials. Election of officers will be held next Thursday.

THRESH GRAIN ON SUNDAY.

New Castle, Ind., Aug. 26.—Numerous machines and several hundred farmers in all parts of the county yesterday spent a long day in threshing wheat and oats, which threatened serious damage in the fields by reason of numerous rains. Last night and early today Prosecutor Evans received numerous telephone and personal calls from farmers asking for immunity from prosecution for working on the Sabbath in an effort to thresh while the weather was nice and they were told to save their crops and forget the day.

MAKE PUBLIC REPARATION.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 26.—In a statement read yesterday from the pulpit of St. Joseph's Catholic church in this city, Mrs. Irene Donly and Joseph Rauschenbach, who were married at St. Joe, Mich., a few weeks ago, publicly proclaimed that they had done wrong when they were wedded outside of the church and asked forgiveness of the parish for the public scandal they had caused. Bans for their marriage under the laws of the church were then read. This is one of rare instances in this diocese that a public reparation has been required for an instance of this kind.

WILL BE STUDENT PASTOR.

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 26.—Rev. J. C. Todd, pastor of the Christian church of this city, has resigned his charge to become pastor of the students of that denomination attending Indiana university. The Rev. Mr. Todd's resignation came as a surprise to his congregation.

SOUTH BEND BOY DROWNS.

South Bend., Ind., Aug. 26.—While trying to swim the St. Joseph river near here yesterday, Orville Webster, 17, a high school student, was seized with cramps and drowned before companions could reach him. A small brother of the boy, who was also in the water, made heroic efforts to save him, and nearly lost his life in the attempt.

REDUCTION PLANT BURNS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 26.—The plant of the Indiana Reduction company, which handles the waste of this city, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The plant is located nine miles from here and the only water supply was a small tank on one of the buildings. The loss is estimated at $150,000. The company says it will bury the garbage until a new plant can be erected. Fifteen men were slightly injured by one of the walls falling.

HIS LAST STAND

By SPENCER CLAY GUNN

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
Who never to himself hath said,
"This is mine own, my native land."

NATHAN BROWN watched with horror the sun rise. Could this group of ghastly ruins be the village of Pleasant Valley?

He had seen the homes standing empty at sunset. From his porch his eyes had followed the engineers of the American Water Supply Company as they went from house to house with torches, oil, and shavings. From his chamber window he had looked at the blazing frames until he could bear the sight no longer. Later, in the first cool hours of the morning, with the pungent smoke of burning pine and oak and birch in his nostrils, he had gazed mournfully at the glowing embers of the once beautiful village breaking now and again into fitful flame.

With the first dim daylight, gray mounds marked the yards of his neighbors. Now, as a free sun brought again to Pleasant Valley all the brightness of a June morning, the heaps became a hideous black; and yawning caverns showed their ugly faces to the stars.

The old man shook his head. It was not right. It could not be right. Again he tried in Socratic soliloquy to accept the arguments that the engineers had presented, arguments he had met with the old Springfield that he had brought proudly home after Gettysburg.

Did not the great city need pure water? Was not a great system of supply commensurate with its consumption necessary? Did not the natural course of the water from the mountain watershed lay through Pleasant Valley? Were not several large storage reservoirs along the route necessary? Could not Pleasant Valley, from its peculiar topography, be converted at a comparatively small cost into a deep reservoir? Did not the State pay liberally for all property condemned? Could it not seize, through the ancient right of eminent domain, any property which the owner refused to sell? Yes, that was all true. Therefore should not the village of Pleasant Valley be burned, then buried under forty feet of water? Nathan Brown shook his head. "No!" he muttered, and his swaying head repeated many times his protest, "No! No! No!"

Nathan Brown was born in this house when Pleasant Valley was all farm land and timber. As a lad he had roamed the fields, explored the woods, followed the little wandering stream for miles, and gone a little to the old red shool. As a young man he had labored in the fields and forests, sported with the young folk of the infant village, courted and won a maiden beautiful and sweet as the meadow flowers.

Here he had toiled manfully for his growing brood. From this house he had gone, wet with the tears of love, to the shell-rent field of conflict in '61. Here he had returned, spent and scarred, to finish out his life between the peaceful hills, along the little stream innocent of blood. Hence one by one his dear ones, his comrades, his friends and neighbors, some young and vigorous, some old and worn, had gone to the western country where industry was so richly crowned, or to the ridge of the western hill to begin the long journey of the dead.

Aye, but the hills remained, with their ever-changing, ever-constant glory. The valley was there, stretching green or sere or white as of yore. The brook was there, strewn with the same boulders, worn but little by the years. The stone church in which he had laughed and loved, wept and worshiped, was there, changed but little through many generations. And soon, on yonder hill, he would join those he had honored and loved. Happily they had not lived to see this day of desecration.

The sun rose higher. Occasionally a cloud threw a pitying shadow over the scene. Nature, puzzled and distressed, exerted herself to cover the scars the fire had left upon the face of Pleasant Valley. The grass, vigorous and unrestrained, showed through the fallen brick and crumbling stone and gray ashes. The brook busily carried the last of the floating cinders to the sea. A few house-nesting birds, homeless and bereaved after the awful night, labored and sang, cheerily adjusting themselves to the new conditions, little knowing how soon the waters would flood their new homes and force them to the hills.

Breakfast-time past, groups of men gathered on the neglected street of Pleasant Valley and near the "Brown place." As they talked they looked now and again at the old white farmhouse with its green shutters, its shingled gable roof, and the shining small-paned windows, closely curtained in front; at the close-cut lawn sloping to the street; at the cedar hedgerow; at the gravel walks; at the flowering plants and shrubs lifting their fragrant blossoms to the sun; at the patriarchal oak near the road, whose lowest branches were as straight and large as the trunks of elms with twenty rings.

They looked at the old man patrolling the yard, dressed in the full uniform of a private of the Grand Army, with rifle over shoulder and white-gloved hand at the trousers seam. He was not a large man, and the rifle seemed heavy upon the stooped shoulders. His white hair, closely cropped, showed beneath the back of his broad braided hat. As he turned, his face showed clean and red; like the cheek of a perfect but withered apple. His step, although cautious, was firm; and there was an alertness in his bearing which was nothing less than youthful.

For a month Nathan Brown had held in check a thousand men. Engineers, contractors, foremen and laborers, all had halted before this solitary resident of Pleasant Valley. Argument and entreaty, threats and blandishments, intrigue and diplomacy, all had failed. Imaginative collegians, hard-headed men of affairs, sharp-witted farmers, young and old, male and female, jointly and severally, had been powerless to remove Nathan Brown from their path save at the cost of taking at least one life.

The patience of the engineers and contractors, however, was now exhausted. The increasing threats from headquarters could no longer be braved. There were time limits within which the contracts must be fulfilled. Heavy penalties and even cancellation of contracts were near at hand. Lawyers had been studying the situation from both sides. An ultimatum had been issued by the department that if Pleasant Valley were not filled with water on or before June 1, it would cancel all contracts and take the work into its own hands. And this was the first day of June.

At 10 o'clock a paper was tacked to the old oak which Nathan Brown had made the dead-line in his siege. It notified him that the water from the upper reservoir would be let into Pleasant Valley at noon; that he must seek a place of safety, or take the consequences. The old man tacked the paper back to the tree with the writing against the bark, and sentried on.

Soon after one o'clock a small stream of water coursed through Pleasant Valley to the huge wall at its south end, stopped there and spread back over the ground. This rivulet soon became a brook, then a river, and by two o'clock Pleasant Valley was a shallow pond.

By four o'clock Nathan Brown had retreated to his porch. At five he could be seen at the windows of his chamber. By this time all the ruins of Pleasant Valley were mercifully covered.

Nathan Brown looked out upon a flood which perhaps for hundreds of years would never subside. Never again would he, at least, behold the fertile acres of Pleasant Valley. Never again would his eyes meet the old landmarks which had been as much a part of his life as the skymarks of heaven. Across the valley, upon the western hill, the grass was flecked with white. Shading his face with his hand against the setting sun, he gazed with tear-dimmed eyes upon all that remained to him of his past—Pleasant Valley, more fortunate than other villages in the merciless path of progress, had saved her dead.

It was six o'clock. Nathan Brown slowly, laboriously crept, with his musket, from the roof of his porch up the shingled roof of the house. With no thought of supper, there congregated upon the shores of the reservoir the engineers, the contractors, the laborers, together with thousands of people, some sympathizing, some simply curious, who had been drawn to the scene of a conflict which for weeks had filled the papers of the State.

A boat floated near the house with the chief engineer and the head contractors aboard. At times it seemed certain that the old man would slip back into the water which surrounded him. At last his free hand grasped the ridgeboard, and for the present, sitting there, he was safe.

Suddenly the boat started toward him, but it stopped as Nathan Brown's rifle came quickly to his shoulder. Standing in the boat, the chief engineer made a last and strong appeal. The old man shook his head. The water was lapping his feet.

The engineer turned his megaphone to the shore.

"Shut off the water!" he ordered, and a dozen rifles spoke to the distant gate.

It was too late. The water rose to Nathan's waist as he sat on the peak of the roof. Slowly he worked his way to the chimney, keeping his rifle well above the water. Cautiously he climbed upon a flat stone ledge which surrounded the short chimney at the roof, and stood erect, his rifle on his shoulder and his left finger at his trousers seam.

A roar of applause went up from the shore. Some one raised a flag, and the crowd went wild with the excitement of enthusiasm and suspense.

The water rose slowly. Now it was at the old man's waist. Soon it crept to his breast.

The boat came nearer. Nathan watched it closely, but did not move his gun from his shoulder. Once, as the boat came very near, he made a threatening gesture, and it withdrew. At last the moment came when the water lapped the neck of the veteran and the lock of his rifle.

The crowd on the shore seeemd to stop breathing. The men in the boat, with faces white and set, worked still nearer.

"Wait!" he ordered.

He was powerless now, but there was a command in his voice and look which caused the men in the boat to stop. Although hardly a minute lay between life and strangulation, he was leisurely removing his hat with his one free hand.

From within the crown, where it was his custom to carry it, he drew a large snow-white handkerchief. This he caught with the front sight of his rifle, and, slowly raising it until he held the stock in his hands, high above the water, he waved the flag of surrender.

But the gleam of victory shone from his clear blue eyes, and as he was drawn from the water and his mouth could again open without danger of drowning, his voice rang out strong and defiant:

You said you would burn the dear old home. Now go ahead and burn it!"

SOCIETY

There is to be a quiet wedding this evening at 8 o'clock when Miss Matilda M. Sturmer, daughter of Mrs. A. Sturmer, of Maumee avenue, and Mr. William Wintle will be married at the parsonage of St. Paul's Lutheran church by Rev. Jacob Miller. The bride will have two nieces, the Misses Edith and Jennie Duemling, as bridesmaids, but Mr. Wintle will be unattended. After the marriage ceremony immediate relatives and a few friends will meet the bride and groom informally and offer congratulations at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Duemling, sister and brother of the bride. The bride and groom will take a trip to Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and other lake points and will be at home after Sept. 15 in a new residence of their own in Forest Park. Mrs. Richard Duemling, of Milwaukee, a sister of Dr. Duemling, is the only out-of-town guest to be present at the wedding reception this evening. The bride is an unusually pretty young woman of quiet and prepossessing manner and among those who know her well is a general favorite. Mr. Wintle is an Englishman who is highly regarded. He is a buyer for the People's store.

Don't Say Blouse Any More! This the Newest Thing in Shirts for Women.

Sh—h! Don't say blouse any more. It is old-fashioned and out of date. The correct word for the correct maid is shirt. Yes, women wear shirts now just like men.

Dame Fashion has declared this fascinating model to be severely plain, despite the cunning little tabs and buttons on sleeve and front, and the soft open-neck arrangement.

The material is white satin. The only touch of color appears in the tops of the buttons and the simulated buttonholes. The beauty of this is that the color may easily be chosen to match the skirt worn with the shirt. The real novelty-loving woman will have the buttons attached with patent fasteners, so that she can wear different sets of buttons with different skirts.

Attractive suggestions of dressiness, which does not conflict with the general style of the waist, are the lace jabots spreading from the ends of the Robespierre collar, and the sleeve frills.

A REST ROOM.

In Germany, where the pursuit of hygiene is a more fashionable hobby than in this country, the "sun parlor" has become a popular addition to the country or suburban home.

An outdoor sitting room is constructed on any wide balcony or veranda and fitted with glass screens. These are adjusted so that the sitting room may be used all the year round, and even in summer, and more particularly at the seaside, are a protection against too strong breezes. The screens are made so as to slide backward and forward, and should have green shades.

Such a room is an ideal one to place at the disposal of the convalescent or the nervous subject who requires a rest cure, or it forms an ideal summer dining room for those who do not care for the often uncomfortable and insect haunted meal in the garden.

SOMERS FAMILY HAS STRAW VOTE

Nearly Two Hundred Attend Annual Reunion at the Park.

"TEDDY" LEADS VOTE

Members of the Somers family spelling their name in three different ways, Somers, Summers and Sommers, in annual family reunion at Robison park Saturday, took a presidential "straw" vote as one of the special features on the program. The Sentinel ballots were distributed during the afternoon among the voters in attendance, and the result was as follows:

Roosevelt, 33; Wilson, 14; Debs, 11; Taft, 2.

Nearly two hundred members of the family were present, most of them living in Fort Wayne. Blue and old rose were selected as the family colors and officers were elected as follows: President, Joseph Summers; assistant president, A. B. Cook; secretary, Miss Clara Cook; treasurer, Miss Vita Somers, of Bluffton; pianist, Clifton Somers; historian, William Somers, of Bluffton.

The Somers family traces its history back to Germany, where some two hundred years ago, religious disturbances caused the forefathers to leave their native land. After a short stay in Holland, they came to America and settled in Shenandoah Valley, Virginia. Since that time the different branches of the family have scattered over the country, but it is believed that most of them now make their home in Indiana.

Fearless and Wonderful Feats Performed By Legare on the Spiral Tower At Robison Park! One Week, Beginning Tuesday Night August, 27th.

Legare ascends and descends the narrow sixteen-inch pathway, while balancing on a large globe twenty-six inches in diameter. At the pinnacle of the tower, one hundred and ten feet above the starting point, he performs the remarkable and daring feat of standing on his hands on the unsteady sphere. At the night exhibition he makes the descent in a blaze of fireworks, while a volcanic eruption occurs from the pinnacle, enveloping the tower from top to bottom. Legare performs at the base of the tower extraordinary and apparently impossible feats requiring strength and skill—such as juggling, rifle shooting, club swinging and hand balancing feats, while rushing to and fro on the sphere. He lowers his body from a single hand balance into a planche, at the same time balancing a lighted lamp on the back of his head. The spiral tower performance is a remarkable exhibition and amazes all beholders. It begins Tuesday night, August 27, and closes Sunday night, September 1.

Millinery Buyers:—Hurry!

This Is the Last Week of the Opening Display of Our Wholesale Department—If You Are Buying Millinery, Be Sure To Come.

This is the last week of our Fall millinery opening and we plan to make it our biggest week. There's no reason why we shouldn't succeed in doing this, for we are displaying more new pattern hats, and a score or more of brand-new just-arrived imported goods.

Special interest this week will center upon our children's hats. We are showing a much larger and better line than formerly and are offering characteristic values.

To Every Millinery Buyer Who Reads This

We extend a cordial invitation to attend this Fall Opening Display. If you want to do justice to your customers and to yourself, don't leave Fort Wayne until you've called upon us and seen the millinery values we offer.

August 30th will be the last day of our Fall, 1912 Opening Display. Be sure to come before then.

WHO IS BERTON BRALEY? WELL, HE HAS QUITE A STORY. HERE 'TIS.

BERTON BRALEY AND HIS DOG SOLOMON.

Berton Braley, who is rapidly becoming a millionaire writing rhymes for The Sentinel, is perhaps the leading humorous poet in America today. And he so young—only 30!

Bert Braley has seen some life—and work. He was born in Madison, Wis., went gaily and blithly through the city schools and graduated from Wisconsin university by the skin of his teeth, as he says himself.

He began that funny thing you call work in 1905 when he went to Butte, Mont., and landed a job on the Inter-Mountain (that's the name of a newspaper) as a cub reporter. After a year the editor fired him. Said he would never be a newspaper man, and as to his poetry, which Braley had begun to write, "Pooh! Pooh!"

This made our hero so blamed mad he went over to the rival paper, forced himself into a job and so everlastingly scooped the Inter-Mountain from day to day that, presto, Braley was soon recognized as the best reporter in Montana.

But the thing next to his soul was poetry—mostly funny poetry, and presently the big comic papers in the east and the magazines were grabbing off his stuff as fast as he could write it.

Of course, no young writer so successful as this one could avoid hopping off to N' York. The next job for the doctors at John Hopkins is to invent an antitoxin especially doped for squirting into western newspaper men suffering from N' York fever.

Well, Berton worked on a Manhattan paper some, was associate editor of Puck for awhile and then cast himself loose to do that which the Muse called upon him to do and nothing else. She has called very many times. There is no magazine of any consequence in the country that has not bought poetry from Berton Braley. And now he is writing a daily poem for The Sentinel. This is a recklessly short account of this famous young writer's life. But our readers have a perfect personal acquaintance with him anyway from the delicious verses he puts before their eyes from day to day. In looks, Braley is a big fellow—big fisted, big-hearted and big in the humanity and cheer and good English he puts into his poetry.

Simplicity! Simplicity!
Our love for you is keen.
We love the sweet felicity
Of trees and grasses green.
We love the rough, the rugged trail,
Where city fads we lack—
But when the days begin to fail
We're tickled to go back.
Ah, yes.
We're crazy to go back!

Simplicity! Simplicity!
We love to chant thy name.
But gas and electricity
Are handy just the same.
We love the forest and the glade,
The mountain and the glen—
But when the summer game is played
We hike for home again;
You bet.
We run for home again!

CRUDE COLORS.

Among the trimmings known as "garnitures," which are really only new because of the fresh way found of applying them, are those wool embroideries which have practically been worn all the summer. An innovation in their treatment is to work them in thicker wool, which suits better the kind of fabric on which they are now employed.

The colors are so extremely vivid that they may be said almost to shout at one another, and are decidedly crude.

Pickled cabbage and bright leaf green, yellow ochre, ripe corn, a violet which hurts the eyes, a dazzling crimson and reds are the hues chosen for the embroidery.

Softer shades are sometimes used, but these are far from the pastel hues once so beloved, and the craze now is for colors that stand out in bold relief from the fabric.

No longer are those woolen embroideries used on broderie anglaise or even on linen. Now they are done on white or cream etamine or voile, and no other form of embroidery is used on the same frock.

All Boys and Girls in Fort Wayne Invited to Robison Park On Wednesday, August 28th. Free Rides Both Ways With Transfers Going Home.

Every boy and girl in Fort Wayne is invited to the Last Vacation Romp at Robison Park on Wednesday, August 28th. Just go to the Court-House corner and board any park car. Every boy and girl will be given transfers, so no one need walk home after a hard day's play at the park. You can go any time from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m., and return any time between 3 p. m. and 11 p. m. Now read closely, little friends: The big Spiral Tower performance will take place at 3:30. That will be a magnificent spectacle in itself. The prizes will be awarded between 4 and 5 p. m. The big doll, Gloria's sister, and the miniature house will be given away. There will be forty-two presents in the letter-writing contest; twenty-one for boys and twenty-one for girls. The first prize for the best letter written by a girl will be a diamond ring. The first prize for the best boy's letter will also be a diamond ring, suitable for a boy. Twenty scarf pins of Pompeiian designs will be given to the next best twenty boys' letters, while twenty solid gold set rings will be given to the girlies. Try to tell Mr. Williams in your letters about the sports and games and things you like best, so he will know how to entertain you next summer. There will be 5,000 delicious butter scotch candy suckers for August 28th, just like the 2,000 Mr. Williams gave you on Boys' day; this will make a big butter scotch feast. The greased pole will have a prize at its summit for the best climber. The Spiral Tower exhibition will be repeated at 8:30 p. m. with fireworks, and you are all invited to remain and see it again. Mr. Williams invites all his boy and girl friends to attend this Last Vacation Romp. Mr. Greenland, of the traction company, has generously offered the street cars for the Fort Wayne children, so that you can go to the park without expense. Now, all come out and have a good time, as the school bells will soon be ringing

MEN WAITERS ARE BARRED BY WOMEN

Girls Will Serve Guests at Mrs. Belmont's Dance and Dinner.

AT NEWPORT RESORT

Newport, R. I., Aug. 26.—Waitresses and not waiters will serve Mrs. Belmont and her guests tomorrow night, when she gives her dinner and dance for her protege, Miss Inez Milholland—and thereby hangs a tale. The entertainment for Miss Milholland will be given at Easton's Beach and the dinner will be served in the beach restaurant. Mrs. Belmont has decided to have the regular beach waitresses serve her guests, and incidentally she gives her opinion of men as waiters.

"For many years," said Mrs. Belmont, "men have served at luncheons and dinners, and incompetence is the least of their faults. They are becoming worse and hardly an entertainment of any sort takes place that they do not cause some unpleasantness; at least, they cannot be trusted to serve wine, for every time they serve they become tipsy, with disastrous results.

"And they are frequently insolent, overbearing and presumptuous and have caused hostesses many trying moments, and this at times when all of the hostess' time should be for other things than the trivial details of serving.

"They are not quiet or obliging and in fact are great drawbacks to a successful dinner or luncheon. They care more for their own comfort and convenience than for their guests, and are often absolutely lacking in the rudiments of common sense. Nor does this criticism apply to only a few, for I have been observing the incompetency of the manservant for many years. He is the same here as abroad. Wherever you encounter him you will find that he is looking out for himself all the time. He is selfish, incompetent and sometimes worse. At dinner he is more than likely to be in a state bordering on intoxication and is as likely to place a dinner plate on one's lap as on the table.

"On the other hand, women are careful. They are always alive to the situation, serve without ostentation, and can be depended upon in an emergency. They are quick to grasp a situation and quick to remedy anything that needs attention. A hostess who entertains and has women serving can put her mind on things of higher importance and not be bothered by the details of service. Then the women servants are not insolent; they do not have the overbearing manner of the man servant. They are pleasant and cheerful and when asked to perform a duty that is legitimately theirs do so in a manner that shows they are not insulted by the request or order."

Besides being in favor of women servants, as proved by her words, Mrs. Belmont explained that she did not want the waitresses at the Beach restaurant to lose a night's work on account of her hiring the place for her dinner dance. Mrs. Belmont has engaged the entire Beach and will use the various attractions for her guests, including the merry-go-round, shooting galleries, "shoot the chutes," etc.

A large number of invitations have been issued and the acceptances have been many. The entertainment will be one of the features of the season.

Mrs. Belmont's opinion of men waiters has been made known to some of her friends, and for many reasons they oppose her proposed violent innovation. Mrs. Belmont is determined to stick to her program, however, and no men will serve at the dinner for Miss Milholland.

The efficiency of the dining car service on the Pennsylvania lines has been increased by the adoption of a decided innovation in dining cars. By omitting platforms and vestibules space has been provided for two additional tables, seating six persons, making the capacity thirty-six persons. What the new arrangement means is indicated by the fact that one of the first demonstrations of the car to determine its capacity for business showed that 108 persons were served in three hours with no rush or crowding.

Sage Tea Will Darken the Hair

Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

This preparation gives youthful color and beauty to the hair, and is one of the best remedies you can use for dandruff, dry, feverish, itching scalp, and falling hair. Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and you will be surprised at the quick results. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Special agents, Meyer Bros. Co., Four Drug Stores.

TELLS NEGROES TO BE FARMERS

Booker T. Washington Opposes Dependence of Race on Odd Jobs.

POINTS OUT THE WAY

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Dr. Booker T. Washington, in an address before the National Negro Business league, made a plea to negroes to cease depending on odd and uncertain jobs as a means of livelihood and to enter farming and commercial lines.

He pointed out that the buyers of farm products, household furniture, buggies and wagons and even coffins did not ask whether the goods came from the hands of a white or colored man. He also pointed out that the south and west with their millions of acres of unused land offer welcome to the farmer regardless of nationality.

Now Is the Time.

"Now is the time—not in some far off future, but now is the time— for us as a race to prove to the world that in a state of freedom we have the ability and the inclination to do our part in owning, developing, manufacturing and trading in the natural resources of our country. If we let these golden opportunities slip from us in this generation I fear they will never come to us in a like degree again.

"There are more than 270,000,000 acres of unused and unoccupied land in the south and west. In fact, one-half of the land in the south and two-thirds of the land in the west still is unused. Now is the time for us to become the owners and users of our share of the land before it is too late. From ownership of the soil comes independence, self-support, happiness and real manhood rights.

Why Not the Negroes, Too.

"Land that can be gotten at $10 an acre now a few years hence can not be gotten for two and three times that much. If the white man from America and Europe can establish and operate a saw mill and gain wealth and independence from the use of our millions of acres of forest land, why not more negroes do the same thing?

"If the white man can secure wealth and happiness by owning and operating a coal mine, brick yard or lime kiln, why not more negroes do the same thing?"

Dr. Washington also said negroes should organize and specialize. He suggested that local organizations should affiliate with state bodies.

Watt Terry, negro of Brockton, Mass., told how he started in the real estate business and increased his capital from 15 cents to $500.000.

Found No Barrier.

"I found no barrier against me because of my color and I bought the choicest property in Brockton," he said. "I attribute by success to the fact that I worked and that all my deals could be submitted to the inspection of the angels in heaven.

"The man who tried to keep me from going into the real estate business because he feared my color would be against me, still is working for $2 a day. I have two thousand persons in my apartment buildings and only one family belongs to the negro race."

"Were all medicines as meritorious as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy the world would be much better off and the percentage of suffering greatly decreased," writes Lindsay Scott, of Temple, Ind. For sale by all dealers.

A HOLIDAY HINT

Before going on a holiday take care to place whole cloves among the blankets, bedding and clothing which are being left behind, or to saturate pieces of cotton wool with oil of cloves, and to place this among the various articles. The old-fashioned camphor remedy against moths is not nearly so efficacious, for it is found that moths abhor the smell of cloves.

If the moth once gets an entry it is, as we all know, very difficult to dislodge it. A strong applications of benzine will probably succeed in doing so, and this will not injure the garment or the material upon which it is employed. Benzine must not be used near a fire nor an open light, and its odor will quickly disappear if the articles subjected to treatment are hung in the open air.

DON'T NEGLECT CATARRH

Catarrh is a most distressing complaint, known by its symptoms of stuffy feeling in the head and nose, roaring in the ears, mucus in the throat, difficult breathing, etc. When the blood becomes thoroughly polluted with catarrhal matter the inflammation extends to the bronchial tubes, causing hoarseness and often an aggravating cough, the stomach is affected, resulting in dyspepsia, loss of appetite, and gradually all the mucous membranes of the body become diseased. Catarrh is beyond the reach of local treatment. Only temporary relief can be had from the use of sprays, washes, etc. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and at the same time building up the entire system. Then as pure, nourishing blood circulates through the body, the inflamed membranes heal, all discharges cease and every symptom of Catarrh passes away. Don't neglect Catarrh; cure it with S. S. S. as thousands have done. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

BASEBALL ATHLETICS

SERIES AT HOME YIELDED LITTLE

Played Sixteen Games and Won Nine and Still Has Hard Fight.

OFF FOR NINE GAMES

Sixteen of the eighteen games scheduled for the last stand of the Billiken troupe at home were played and of this number Fort Wayne won nine.

This did not net much of a margin for the final road trip in which Canton, Zanesville and Akron are to be met and taken as a whole, the home series was a disappointment, because the Fort Wayne players expected to win at least a dozen out of sixteen and needed about that many to make the pennant sure.

In the final game the cause of the disappointment stood out prominently in the fact that the locals could not hit and unfortunately every good hitter on the team slumped at the same time and games that have been won have been captured by the finest kind of defensive work and excellent support of the pitchers.

Every player on the team has fought hard for better results but the break was against them in all the games and in the closing event Manager Shaughnessy resorted to all the methods of attack he could devise but none of them yielded anything.

In the first place Adkins is a left-hander and has had enough big league experience as a member of the Athletics to teach him some of the finer points of pitching, and in the second place he had some high class support. George Harden was counted on to win the game but he weakened in the seventh and issued three passes, filling the bases with none down. Goldrick went in for him with all the sacks occupied and with his entry one of the disadvantages of spit ball pitching was demonstrated.

Moren came up with the paths crowded and hit an easy grounder to Bunny Fabrique. Bunny picked up the ball and just managed to grasp it where the saliva was thickest and when he went to throw home with a double play in sight and plenty of time to field the ball he chucked it against the grandstand and two runs followed instead of the two outs that would have retired the side.

There were nearly 3,000 people on the grounds to witness the game and many of them were there early to witness the interesting field day events which preceded the game. In the hunt and run to first Booe made a world's record by accomplishing the feat in three seconds flat with Rogers and McLafferty tie for second place with a record of 3 1-5.

Tommy Adkins won the fungo hitting contest by hitting the ball 403 feet 5 inches, with Fred Alberts second at 386. Alberts is one of the best fungo hitters in the league and after he had had his three trials he hit one nearly to the flag pole and fully fifteen feet further than the one Adkins won on.

Booe was also the winner in circling the bases with a mark of fourteen seconds, Rogers and McLafferty ran against him and they tied again in this event in 14 1-5 seconds.

Eddington won the long-distance throw with his mark of 358 feet and 4 inches, beating out Clark, of his own team, by 28 feet. Keener made the best throw for the local club. Wager won the throw from home plate to second base by throwing the ball into a barrel on his third effort. Fabrique was next in the event but he could not get one inside.

Again Booe came to the front in the dash of 75 yards, which he negotiated in 8 1-5 seconds with Fabrique right on his heels. In an extra Servatius and Bill Schneider put on a dash for the same distance and ran a dead heat in 9 2-5. The announcer gave the time as 19 2-5, as the race was put on for a joke and neither man expected to make as good time as was registered.

ONE MORE TRIAL AT SPRINGFIELD

Meyer Says He Will Stick But South Bend is Up Against It Hard.

BAD AT YOUNGSTOWN

(Springfield News.)

This city is to remain on the baseball map. President Sol Meyer of the Reapers, will continue the club here next year and promises the fans a team that will reflect credit to Springfield, regardless of the financial loss sustained this season.

Mr. Meyer says it was his money that built Washington park, and it was also his money which financed the team here last year. He states that the local club has not been able to meet the pay roll once this year.

Mr. Meyer adds that if the fans desire a new owner for 1913, he assures them that he will not stand in the way but will gladly dispose of the majority interest for the exact amount he has invested.

(South Bend Times.)

Sunday gives South Bend fans the last chance to see the Greens at Springbrook park this season. And it may be the last for seasons to come.

The Chamber of Commerce is dissatisfied with the year's results. Though they exerted every possible means to awaken baseball spirit, they have now resigned themselves to admitting defeat.

That the chamber will not endeavor to back a ball team next season is almost certain. The fenders are discouraged.

The team has made a poor showing from the start. It opened the season at a disadvantage. There was too much criticism. First, the team manager came in for his share. He has his knockers. Then again, the ability of the Chamber of Commerce to finance the project pricked another class of men. Hence, it was given little support.

Many South Benders can be named at random who are taking special delight in the downfall of the team. Not because they had any particular grudge against it. They were skeptical from the start and prophesied defeat. Now they can be heard saying, "I told you so." They glory in the fulfilment of their prophecy. That's their only reason for rejoicing.

Whether there is anything in luck in the baseball enterprise is not for argument. The views are too widely apart on the question. That moral support is a big factor is certain.

Loyalty of fandom to its team has won more games than brilliant flashes of individual playing. Loyalty between player and the audience brings harmony and harmony team work. Team work wins games.

Perhaps South Bend has learned a lesson. If it has then the season may not have been altogether a failure. Another team may represent the city, and when it does, the year of 1912 will be an event in local history which may quicken conscience.

The team and the management has done its best. It can do no more. It is waiting passively to see what the morrow will bring. Go to the game, coax your friends along. Give the team a fitting farewell.

(Youngstown Vindicator.)

According to official figures issued by Magnate Powers, the attendance record for this season has fallen much below the record of last season. To date 50,338 adults have paid admission to the local ball park this season, while the grand total for paid admissions is augmented by the addition of 2,870 children.

Considering the brand of baseball the local club has been playing this season, these figures are very low. At the start of the season Magnate Powers confidently expected there would be at least 100,000 paid admissions for the entire season, which figure would have let the local club owners out in nice shape, as far as the gate was concerned. It is hardly likely that the season's total will now reach much more than 75,000.

Even at the figures named, however, Youngstown is far ahead of some of the Central league cities. To date, Erie is said to be leading in the number of paid admissions. Entering the Central league brought additional expense to the local club, and the surprise has been great that the season's record should have fallen below that for the last year in the O.-P. circuit.

Statistics along this line are now being prepared. It is said that in every city there has been a falling off. Youngstown, aside from Erie, showed the best returns of the clubs formerly in the O.-P. league, while the advantage over a number of old Central league towns shows conclusively that Mahoning's capital is entitled to class B ball.

"HE WILL BE WORLD'S GREATEST PITCHER."

That's What Scout for Chicago White Sox Says of 20-Year-Old Twirler Who Has Won 14 Straight Games.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 26.—Rube Marquard has one body, one head, two arms and two legs, and so have most people in and out of baseball.

And so, by the same token, has Bill James, Seattle's pitcher. But there is, though you can't see it, an "indefinable something" in the heads, bodies, legs, arms and hearts of men like Rube Marquard and Bill James which makes them different from other men.

It has made Marquard the idol of the fans of the whole country. When he won nineteen straight victories for New York, thereby almost establishing a new world's record, he was accounted the greatest pitcher of all time.

If Marquard is the premier flinger, what of Bill James, of Seattle?

For Bill won his fourteenth consecutive victory recently, and is ploughing ahead as if he never intended to stop.

Ted Sullivan, scout for the Chicago Sox, said after he had seen James in action:

"He has everything. Let him develop two years more as he has in the past year and he will be greater than Marquard—he will be the greatest pitcher baseball has ever known."

And Bill is only 20 years old. His entire moniker is William Lawrence James, and he was born at Iowa Hill, Placer county, Cal. When he was knee high to a grasshopper he played one-old-cat and pig-tail in the sand lots.

Then he went to the Oroville high school and made that school's team in his junior year, playing the infield. He looked then more like a catcher than a pitcher. On graduating, he played on semi-pro teams, pitching, and developed a wonderful speed. But he had no spitter.

Emmett Schofield, Seattle first baseman, found James and he was signed last year. On Schofield's advice, Dug ordered the youngster to stay in Oroville a year and grow.

In the spring James came to Seattle. The fans took an instant liking to the big country bumpkin, who looks and acts in the box like Ed Walsh, Chicago's famous pitcher.

BILL JAMES.

Bill got better and better. Now he has speed—he always had that—and a baffling spitter, a whole box full of other tricks, almost perfect control and a useful pair on his broad shoulders. James THINKS.

He fields his position like a veteran already, and hits around .270—which is going some for a pitcher.

In the spring James came to Seattle weighing 198 pounds and stands 6 feet 3 inches. He takes fine care of himself and has never touched liquor or tobacco.

James' teammates recognize his genius. When James and Bert Whaling, catcher, were sold to the Boston Nationals for $8,000, Second Baseman Chick remarked: "Without wishing to slam Whaling, the price of James was $7,999."

James was asked what was the freakiest incident in his baseball experience.

"It was down in Marysville, California," he said. "I struck out 22 and lost the game, 1 to 0."

CAN NOT USE DIAMOND.

Friars Denied Privilege, But Varnell Will Help Buy Circus Seats.

At a conference between Owner Claude H. Varnell and John E. O'Connor, Willard Thomas and Frank Ringhart, members of the Athletic board of the Friars' club, the football team was denied the privilege of using the ball diamond for this season. It was desired to make an arrangement of this kind so that spectators can use the grandstand and bleachers.

Mr. Varnell said he had spent five years getting the diamond in shape, had a lot of money invested, has a park that all the visitors pronounce the best in the league and he does not feel that he could afford to take a chance.

He agreed, however, to pay half of the purchase price for an outfit of circus seats and the athletic board will arrange to buy them. A meeting of the football squad will be held on Thursday night to talk over the plans for the season. Tonight plans will be made for the joint track meeting.

BUCK O'BRIEN MAY LOSE OUT.

Boston, Aug. 26.—Generally considered one of Boston's main pitching reliances earlier in the year, Buck O'Brien is now said to have one game between him and discharge.

It is understood Manager Stahl told O'Brien today that unless he gave a good account of himself in his next battle he would be playing on some other club before the world's series shows up.

5,000 Candy Suckers For the Last Vacation Romp on Wednesday August 28th.

Mr. Williams gave 2,000 suckers to the children on Boys' Day. The pleasure of the kiddies over these butter scotch goodies and the eagerness of little hands suggested that a big butter scotch treat is both a joy and a delight, so 5,000 will be given away on August 28th at the Last Vacation Romp.

WOMEN WATCH MEN IN PRIZE FIGHT

Female Audiences Popular in Eastern Athletic Circles.

MANY INTERESTED

New York, Aug. 26.—Sitting where they could see every blow and every bit of footwork, eleven women, as fully interested, but less demonstrative than a crowd of 500 men, watched twenty-eight rounds of fighting in the clubhouse of the Atlas A. C. in Steeplechase Park, Rockaway Beach. The feminine fight fans seemed to know much about boxing.

With one exception the women were over thirty years, of matronly appearance and quiet dress. One party of women, with male escorts, were outwardly clad in automobile coats and hats.

The fighting game has gained such a hold on the women of Rockaway Beach that they are well represented at each of the Atlas club's weekly shows. Three six-round battles preceded the star bout—a ten-round fight between Frankie Burns and Jim Kenrick, lightweights. Announcer Wallace said before the bouts:

"I hope you gentlemen will be very careful in your remarks, for there are ladies present."

The main bout was speedy, and perhaps it was the non-appearance of gore and the quick manufacture of cauliflower ears that kept the women comparatively silent. Occasionally a well-driven punch brought laughter from them. But they rose to no great heights of enthusiasm, while the men were on their feet, shouting. And when a man obstructed a woman's vision she was not slow in reminding him of it.

A young woman of about twenty-two, accompanied by an escort, sat in the fourth row. She got her greatest tears—during the fight of six rounds between "Knockout" Edgar and Jim Dailey. Edgar hit Dailey on the nose and the girl cried. She cried, too, when Dailey tried to remove Edgar's front teeth later in the struggle. The women stayed until the last gong had sounded.

AVERAGES OF NO VALUE.

Two Weeks Old and Incorrect and Not Worth Printing.

(Erie Dispatch.)

For the first time this year the press has been favored with the Central league fielding averages. These were released for publication yesterday, but The Dispatch will not publish them for several reasons. First, the figures are more than two weeks old and many changes might have occurred in them during that time. Second, it is our humble opinion that they are useless, the fact that they bear the official stamp to the contrary notwithstanding. We cite one instance: Gilhooley, according to the figures, is the best fielding outgarderner, having made only two errors in 99 games. Would that this were true. Without seeking to detract from Gil's apparently brilliant fielding, we recall that he made a pair of breaks in one game, not to mention some others which fall to the misfortune of any really classy player. This is one instance where a "bull" was detected.

(Terre Haute Tribune.)

Official fielding averages of the Central league were received Saturday by the sporting editor of The Tribune from President F. R. Carson. The official batch appears to be as badly balled up as was the official list of batting figures given out sometime ago in which "Biddy" Dolan was credited with an average of but .222. To start with the men are not placed in order, according to their averages, but are scattered with no regard for position.

JUST TO BE GENEROUS.

(Erie Dispatch.)

Catcher Eddie Wager will be returned by Wheeling along with Pitcher Matteson when the season closes. He will be retained for next year as he is too valuable a hitter to be released outright. In connection with the optional release of Wager to Wheeling, a howl has been set up in Fort Wayne to the effect that Manager Gilbert deliberately sought to strengthen the Stogies' chances against the leaders by sending Wager to Goat Anderson on the eve of the Wheeling-Fort Wayne series. There may be an element of truth in this, as all is fair in love, war or baseball, but the real reason Wager was turned over to Wheeling was to help that club at a time when both of its regular catchers were laid up.

BIG EVENT WILL BE STAGED NEXT

Shop Leaguers to Put on Important Battle of This Season.

LEADERS WIN GAMES

A postponed game between the Pennsylvania and Rolling Mills teams of the Fort Wayne Shop league will be staged at League park on Saturday afternoon of this week and the event promises to be the best thing put on by the shopmen this season, as both clubs are going along at a good gait and the game will be a big factor in the pennant race.

Lill will be stacked up against either Benoy or Cochoit, and as both clubs won on Saturday, they are relatively in the same position as they were when the game was postponed on account of rain. The receipts of the game will be divided among the orphan asylums of the city and in the language of the circus announcer "the agents will now pass amongst you."

Forgetting all about the charitable and worthy purpose for which the game will be played at League park, the combat itself ought to be worth the gate money, as the two clubs are evenly matched and both have been playing good ball. The scores of the Saturday games follow:

MAY MAKE THE COMPANY PAY.

Ticker Service Has Been Gratis Heretofore In Central.

It is likely that when the next circuit is made up for the Central league that the Western Union Telegraph company will be compelled to pay for the scores that are used in its ticker service. Up to this time the company has paid nothing for a very valuable asset and in Fort Wayne Mr. Varnell did not receive a cent and in addition spent $65 in telegraph tolls without any rebate or return of any kind. Magnates have come to the conclusion that wires into their park are of no benefit and a movement to charge for those that are allowed will probably be one of the things taken up at the next meeting.

Our entire stock of Star union suits, ranging in price from $1.00 to $3.00, at half price.

Shamrocks Will Devote Attention to Organiation Until the Close.

WON AT MONROEVILLE

With the game at Monroeville yesterday the Fort Wayne Shamrocks finished up the bookings outside the T. and C. Trolley league and will devote the remainder of the season with the clubs in the organization and will also wind it up on the home grounds with a good chance to win out in the race.

At Monroeville the baseball fans have wanted the Shamrocks for a long time and the game was scheduled early in the season. Little difficulty was experienced in winning by the overwhelming score of 16 to 5. The score:

LOCAL WOMEN TO JOIN NEW PARTY

To Participate in District and County Convention of Progressives.

DATE OF PRIMARIES

Following the example set by Roosevelt at the Chicago convention, in urging the attendance and support of women in the new political party, progressive leaders in Allen county are issuing special invitations to members of the fair sex to attend and participate in the district and county convention, to be held in this city next Saturday.

Women of this section of Indiana, while not having a voice in the convention deliberations, will be afforded an excellent opportunity to hear the addresses of Albert J. Beveridge, progressive nominee for governor of Indiana, and Frederick Landis, who will expound the principles of the new party.

The suffragists of Fort Wayne and the Twelfth district will also be represented verbally when an address is delivered at the convention by Mrs. Olaf N. Guldlin, who has been invited to speak.

"All the ladies who want to vote are progressive," said Colonel D. N. Foster this morning. "They are all for the new party and Theodore Roosevelt."

Change Meeting Place.

The progressive convention will be held at the Temple theater instead of the Majestic. The committee was unable to secure the Majestic theater, owing to the fact that the management has had opportunity to book a regular theatrical attraction for that date.

Provisional Chairman Foster is sending out a call for the convention today, and announcement is made that each ward in each township in Allen county is to be represented by ten delegates and ten alternates.

Primaries Thursday.

The special committee appointed some time ago at a meeting held at the German American Trust company building is to name the progressive county ticket, either tomorrow or Wednesday, and county primaries will be held in the country Thursday afternoon and in the city Thursday evening.

It has already been decided by the committee to make D. D. Miller the candidate for representative. Mr. Miller last week officially tendered his resignation to the regular republican central committee. L. L. Bart, committeeman from the first ward, who resigned Saturday, is also to be given a similar office with the progressives.

ENROUTE TO GRANDMOTHER.

Two Orphaned Children Are Guests at Charles Spillner's Home.

Officer Charles Spillner and family have as their guests at their home for a short time two orphaned children, a boy and girl, aged 3 and 4 years, who are being taken to the home of their grandmother in Philadelphia by Charles Hoppert, a son-in-law of Mr. Spillner. The children's home has been in Bremington, Wash., where their father, Charles Britton, was recently shot and killed in the navy yard there by a crazy soldier, and where their mother died shortly afterwards. Their father was a brother-in-law of Mr. Hoppert. Soon after their parents' death, the children were taken in charge by the Masons of Bremington, and it is the latter who are sending the children to their grandmother in the east.

20 dozen 50c, 75c and $1.00 children's caps will go at 10c.

LOVE FLEES WHEN HONOR RUNS AWAY

Girl Refuses to Visit Her Sweetheart Who Stole for New Home.

ASKS 'WHY SHOULD I?'

Iola, Kan., Aug. 26.—The one ray of hope to which William W. Knight clung as the solace for his term in prison for burglary is gone. Miss Pearl Knight, daughter of a Savonburg farmer, to whom Knight was engaged to be married, announced that her betrothal with Knight was at an end.

"But Knight insists that he loves you dearly; that he yielded to temptation under eagerness to hurry the day when you might join him in a happy home; that he is penitent and will lead a truthful and honest life hereafter," Miss Knight was told.

"Won't you stay by him in his hour of trial?"

"Certainly not," snapped Miss Knight. "Why should I stay by him? Hasn't he brought all this upon himself? I'll not lift a hand to help him. He was so gentlemanly and so good while with me that I could not believe ill of him until he confessed."

"Then you'll not even come to see him before he is taken to the penitentiary?"

"I certainly will not. I don't want anything further to do with him."

That was the information received by the under sheriff, Edward Dunfee, from Miss Knight at Savonburg in response to a pathetic plea from Knight that the to come to Iola. A commitment was officer telephone to the girl and ask her issued for the prisoner and Sheriff Kerr took him to Lansing.

Knight was at Lincoln, Kan., when he saw Miss Pearl Knight's signature to a letter in a farm paper. That was four months ago. Correspondence that began then led Knight closer to the vicinity of his sweetheart's home and he found work at Chanute.

The wedding day was set; he had the home ready and furnished; then came the temptation to steal that the home might be equipped quickly with a full complement of necessities. Officers readily traced the burglary to Knight and he was arrested. He at once pleaded guilty and was taken before Judge Oscar Foust, who sentenced him to serve a term of from one to five years in the state prison.

Though Miss Knight was almost prostrated when her fiance was arrested for theft, she at first believed him innocent. When Knight confessed, her faith in him faltered and finally flickered out with the announcement of the prison sentence.

When Knight was told that his sweetheart had deserted him, he gritted his teeth and said he supposed he would have to go it alone.

WERMUTH GETS CONTRACT.

Sears Pickle Company and Krause & Apfelbaum Plants to Be Erected Soon.

The contract for the erection of the new plant of the D. M. Sears Pickle company has been let to Charles Wermuth. The company is to operate a wholesale pickle distributing station with the plant here as the central point. Stations will be established in all the principal cities of Northern Indiana and Ohio. The plant is to be built along the G. R. & I. railroad tracks and will be admirably located for its particular business.

Contracts for the Krause & Apfelbaum warehouse, to be erected in the same neighborhood, will be let this week. Both buildings are to be completed by December. Charles R. Weatherhogg is the architect and bids are to be received at his office.

KILLS SELF AFTER FIGHT.

Robert Clevenger Ends Life by Suicide at Farmland.

Winchester, Ind., Aug. 26.—Robert Clevenger, aged 42, committed suicide at Farmland yesterday by taking two ounces of carbolic acid.

Clevenger and his wife quarreled and she went to the home of her brother and refused to return. Clevenger attempted to force his wife to return home and a fight followed between him and Mrs. Clevenger's brother. In three hours after the fight Clevenger's body was found at his home. There were three notes addressed to his brother, a sister and the third to the citizens of Farmland. To the citizens Clevenger said he blamed no one and said he took his life on his own accord. Clevenger's brother-in-law intended to file an affidavit against him for fighting until he found Clevenger's body.

SHERIFF CALLED TO STOP FIGHTS

Robert Dickson and Waiter Engage in Battle at Germania Park.

OFFICER BADLY HURT

On a call to the sheriff for assistance Deputy Harry Lowry was sent from Robison park yesterday afternoon to Germania to stop a vicious fight in which Robert Dickson, former captain of the city police and a waiter named Farnan engaged over a dispute about fifteen cents.

Dickson was special officer at Germania yesterday and was badly used up in the fight. There were no arrests as Lowry says Farnan escaped before he arrived at Germania and he also says he could not find Dickson on the grounds.

The deputy says that when he arrived at the park he was informed that there had been two fights but that he could not find any of the participants, or anybody in authority who could give him any information.

Efforts to conceal the facts make it a little difficult to get all the details but the best information is to theeffect that Farnan had a dispute with one of the customers to whom he sold drinks about fifteen cents change and that when Dickson tried to settle the matter without trouble the waiter struck him and the fight followed.

No affidavits had been filed this afternoon against any of the participants in the fight.

PARALYSIS CURE MADE BY PRAYER

Doctor Gave Up Hope for Man Who is Now Able to Walk.

AND IS NEARLY WELL

New York, Aug. 26.—Patrick Jones, superintendent of supplies of the board of Education, last April, while sitting in his office in the board of education building, was stricken with paralysis. He was carried to his city home and later removed to his summer residence in Oceanus avenue, Rockaway Beach. Jones, who is fifty years of age, slightly recovered the use of his limbs, and the summer residents of Rockaway became accustomed to seeing him hobbling about leaning on his cane and with his wife and daughter on either side of him.

The Jones family is extremely religious and seldom misses a morning mass. On the first Friday in August Jones was taken to St. Rose of Lima Catholic church at Rockaway and placed in a seat. At that point in the service where the elevation of the host takes place Jones says he felt a strange sensation steal over him and found he was able to kneel without pain and without assistance. After the service was over he arose and left the church unaided.

Although the Rockaway residents had recently noticed Jones walking unassisted the real explanation of his cure was not learned until later.

At his home Jones' family admitted the cure and attributed it to their constant prayers to St. Rita. Dr. Alexander Strong, of No. 267 West Fifty-second street, Manhattan, who had told the family there was probably no hope for the stricken man, paid him a friendly visit last Sunday. The doctor was dumfounded to find Jones at the station to meet him. Jones expects to be at his desk ready for work in the fall.

Pennsylvania Northwest System's Equipment to Be Increased.

CHARLES TUCKER HAS MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Horse Killed and Buggy Demolished on Railroad Crossing.

The freight motive power equipment of the Pennsylvania Northwest system is to receive an important addition this fall. Orders have just been placed with the American Locomotive works for thirty engines of the H-8-C type, the latest and best pattern of freight locomotives. These engines will be built at the Dunkirk shops of the American Locomotive works and delivery will commence as soon as possible, in order that all may be received and put into service by the time traffic begins to reach the maximum point in the late fall months. Some of these locomotives will come to the western division, but how many is not known at present.

PENNSY ATHLETIC EVENTS.

Best Show and Best Prizes the Boys Ever Offered.

Under delightful weather conditions the best show with the best talent and best list of prizes ever presented by the Pennsylvania Employes' Athletic association took place at Driving park Saturday. The affair was conducted excellently and from the start at 12:30 o'clock the somewhat lengthy program proceeded without a hitch or moment's delay until the close, at 5:30 o'clock. It is estimated that there were over 3,000 people present and they so timed their departure from the city that there was not the least jam about the cars at the transfer corner, nor little confusion at the park when the last event was over and the trip homeward was started. The motorcycle and the horse races were the most interesting to a great portion of the audience, though each advent was of more than ordinary interest. Not an accident of note happened on the field, nor as far as could be learned on the way to or from the park. The events and the winners were as follows:

Fifty-yard dash for girls over fourteen—Miss A. Galland, first; Miss Walda, second; Miss Blank, third; Miss Mary Miller, fourth; Miss Stroder, fifth.

Clothes pin race for girls—Miss Graigh, first; Miss Walda, second; Miss Galland, third.

Final result—Cyclone, first; Lady Onward, second; Amelia K., third; King McGregor, fourth.

LAMP WORKS TOURNAMENT.

Thousands Witnessed Events at Swinney Park Saturday.

The athletic tournament, band concert and ice cream social at Swinney park Saturday included a number of features in which women took part that were never witnessed in Fort Wayne before and were unusually interesting throughout. The occasion was the annual outing of the employes of the General Electric works, the object of which were fun and the replenishment of the fund for the maintenance of the Women's rest room at the works, established some time ago and which has proven so beneficial to many of the employes. The feature in which the greatest interest centered was the voting contest between ten young ladies for a handsome and costly gold watch. Voting tickets were made of white, green, blue and red colored cards and were rated at 1, 5, 10 and 25 votes each respectively in the order named, each vote representing one penny. These tickets were not placed in the hands of the contestants until Thursday night and the number sold between that time and the close of the contest was 24,386, which represented a sum of $243. These votes were distributed as follows—Theresa Schallenberger, 9,140; Celeste Madden, 4,955; Kathryn Ryan, 4,546; Emma Wagner, 1,895; Nellie Cummins, 790; Della Diffendoerffer, 741; Clara Hughes, 1,399; Theresa Kegelmann, 700; Marie Rodenbeck, 209. Miss Schallenberger, the winner of the prize, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Schallenberger, of 2130 Lafayette street. She is employed in the office of the General Electric Lamp works on Holman street as the time clerk and the result of the contest may be taken as evidence of her popularity with her friends. The exercises at the park commenced at 9 o'clock in the morning, the program being as follows:

Base ball game—Gen. 14; Masda, 11.

Boys' bicycle race—William Mooney, 1; Benjamin Welsheimer, 2.

Girls' 100 yard dash—Miss Mary Reardon, 1; Miss Hattie Patterson, 2.

Boys 200 yard dash—K. Corkery, 1; W. Mooney, 2.

One-half mile race—K. Corkey, 1; L. Ponius, 2.

Running broad jump—L. Bruot, 1; J. Ross, 2.

Girls' potato race—Miss Marie Reinken, 1; Miss Irene Preuss, 2.

Men's three-legged race—Adolph Foellinger, 1; Paul Axline, 2.

Girls' sunbonnet race—Miss Clara Kohlmeyer, 1; Miss Irene Stier, 2.

Boys' sack race—Dick Arber, 1; J. Ross, 2.

Girls' peanut race—Miss Helma Scherer, 1; Miss Nellie Briggs, 2.

Boys' hog race—Charles Paul, 1; Louis Bruot, 2.

Running broad jump—Louis Bruot, 16 feet, one inch; J. Ross, 15 feet, seven inches.

Leap year race—Miss Bernadette Streibig. In this race, which was one of the most exciting and interesting of the athletic events, Ed Nulf, son of Conductor Nulf, of the Pennsylvania, was chased over a two acre field by twenty-seven young ladies. In the first race he slipped in trying to dart between some of the fair pursuers and immediately a dozen or so of feminine hands had hold of him and it was impossible for the judges to render a decision and another race was the result. Miss Streibig reached Mr. Nulf first and held firmly to him until she was declared the winner of the prize, a handsome lounging robe.

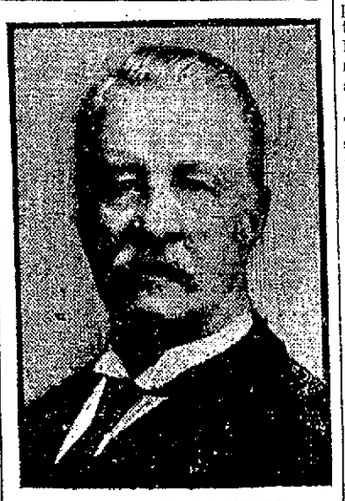
Tug-of-war between girls in the operating department and girls in the inspecting department, the former winning. Operating team—Misses Juliet Romary, Emma Axt, Margaret Krueckeberg, Bertha Reitdorf and Marie Madden. Inspecting team—Miss Margaret Barra, Anna Aumann, Edna Rohrbach, Amanda Aumann and Emma Wagner.

Tug of War—Married vs single men; married men won.

CRAWFORD TO RETIRE.

Consulting Engineer of Pennsy Reaches Seventieth Birthday.

Joseph Ury Crawford, consulting engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad, and one of the most prominent officers in its service, will retire from active work on September first, according to the pension rules of the railroad.



JOSEPH URY CRAWFORD.
Noted Pennsylvania Official Who Retires September 1.

Mr. Crawford was born at Ury Farm, Philadelphia, August 25th, 1842, and educated at John W. Faries' school, from which he went to the University of Pennsylvania in the class of 1862.

At the breaking out of the Civil war, Mr. Crawford enlisted in the 17th Pennsylvania regiment when the Confederate forces first fired upon Fort Sumpter April 14th, 1861. He was commissioned second lieutenant, 6th New Jersey volunteers, October, 1861; promoted at Williamsburg to first lieutenant and to captain at Seven Pines, June 1st, 1862.

From 1865 to 1870, Mr. Crawford was engaged in surveys crossing the Allegheny mountains for the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad company, and in New York and New England upon surveys and railway construction. He entered the service of the Pennsylvania railroad company as senior assistant engineer of the Alexandria, and Fredericksburg railroad during 1871 and 1872. He was principal assistant engineer and afterwards engineer of the California division and Pacific railroad under Col. Thomas A. Scott, and, on his recommendation, Mr. Crawford was appointed consulting engineer of the government of Japan in 1873, at the close of which engagement he was decorated by the emperor of Japan with the Order of the Rising Sun.

After his return to America, Mr. Crawford was employed by the late Jay Gould to make transcontinental examinations and surveys between the Pacific coast and Salt Lake City, as well as in Wyoming and Nebraska.

In the fall of 1882 Mr. Crawford again entered the service of the Pennsylvania railroad company as chief engineer of the Pennsylvania, Schuylkill Valley railroad, and later built the Piedmont and Cumberland railroad in 1886 and 1887. He was appointed assistant to J. N. DuBarry, second vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, in August, 1889, and upon the death of that officer, was appointed engineer of Branch lines. In addition to that position, he was director of various branch railways connected with the Pennsylvania system. On July 28, 1897, he was appointed chief engineer of the construction of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Belt Line Railroad company, which connects with the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk railroad.

Upon the recommendation of Frank Thomson, then president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, Mr. Crawford was appointed by the secretary of war, consulting engineer for the United States government to examine into and report the transportation facilities in Cuba, which position he occupied from October, 1898, to May, 1899. On April 8th, 1902, he was appointed engineer of the New York Connecting Railroad company, and continued in that position until his retirement.

In the fall of 1910 Mr. Crawford was again decorated by the Emperor of Japan for faithful service as consulting engineer of the Imperial Government railways. This time the emperor invested him with the Order of the Sacred Treasure, Insignia of the Third Class, Rising Sun.

On January 5th, 1911, Mr. Crawford was appointed consulting engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad company.

HORSE KILLED ON CROSSING.

Driver Saved Himself by Jumping From Buggy.

Extra freight train, No. 7359, in charge of Conductor Frank Sellers and Engineer Brandt, struck and killed a horse and demolished a buggy at 2:40 o'clock Sunday morning, on a crossing one and one-half miles east of Columbia City. Charles Tucker, aged twenty-two, the driver, saved his life by jumping out just before the horse was struck. He had been visiting in Columbia City and was en route to his home, near Coesse. He was asleep in the buggy, it is presumed, and when he awoke to the situation he jumped out of the vehicle and ran away. The train was stopped and a search made for the driver, but he could not be found. Later he turned up and made his identity known.

NOT AUTHORIZED BY FEDERATION

Labor Organization Has No Agents Soliciting Advertisements.

President James Lechler, of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, requests the statement that the federation is not getting out a program for Labor day other than the handbill already issued. "It has come to my knowledge that a man and woman are engaged in getting up a program of the exercises on that day and have been soliciting advertisements for it. The constitution of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor does not allow the solicitation of advertisements from business men for this purpose. Therefore, if some one is engaged in getting out a program of this kind, it is a private enterprise and the Federation is not responsible nor interested in it." Mr. Lechler said he had been shown a receipt for payment for an advertisement in the "official program" and that the advertiser believed when he made the payment that the publication of the pamphlet was by the Federation.

Winner of a Gold Watch in Voting Contest at Lamp Works' Employes Field Day.

WILL ATTEND REUNION.

Captain Thomas Tooney, of the Bass works, will attend the reunion of the Thirtieth Regiment, Indiana Volunteers, at Lagrange Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Captain Tooney was a member of Company A that Henry H. Lawton took out from Fort Wayne territory in the early years of the War of the Rebellion. He will leave tomorrow morning for Lagrange and will be accompanied by Mrs. Tooney. Captain Tooney has not missed attending the reunions of these regiments since their beginning.

SUFFERED FROM THE HEAT.

Fred Lebrecht, for twelve years connected with the power plant at the Pennsylvania shops, a good portion of that time as stationary fireman, suffered an attack of heat prostration this morning and was sent home in a taxicab. It is believed the attack will be serious.

RETURNS FROM CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hanley have returned from California, where they went some weeks ago to visit their daughters, who reside at Oakland. Mr. and Mrs. Hanley visited other points on the Pacific coast and had a most enjoyable trip. Mr. Hanley is the watchman at the Lafayette street gate of the Pennsylvania shops and will resume work there in a few days.

ATTENDING COURT IN MISSOURI.

Cashier C. P. Porter, of the Wabash freight office, is a witness in a suit for damages at Benton, Mo., in which the Wabash company is the plaintiff. A year ago a horse was shipped from Fort Wayne over the Wabash and in transit had one of its legs broken. The owner now seeks to recover damages.

GOING ON A VISIT.

Fred C. Schultz and wife, to New York; I. Sorg, to Chicago; T. R. Mueller, to Chicago; A. P. Mueller and wife, to Bremen, and O. D. Shookman, off on private business, was some news gathered at the Pennsylvania shops this morning. The men named are employed there.

ALBERT BERNARD IMPROVING.

Albert Bernard, injured in the Pennsylvania wreck at Middlepoint, has fully recovered consciousness and his recovery is assured. The injury to one of his legs and to one of his hands will not be permanent. One of his brothers is still here with him.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

C. J. Getty, clerk at the Wabash offices, is attending a funeral today.

Frank Lane, electrical engineer of the Wabash, is in the city today.

William Wartenbe, E. Van Horn and J. J. Oswald, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty.

George Papis and John Gerakios took employment in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Merl Thompson, Oscar Smith and Frank Monohan, of the Wabash, visited friends at Logansport Sunday.

R. J. Fisher is looking after business at Grand Rapids for the Bass Foundry and Machine works today.

Dennis O'Connor, foreman of one of the departments at the Pennsylvania machine shop, resumed that duty this morning. He was hurt a week ago.

Edward Caswell and Robert Needhammer, of the Pennsylvania, are taking a vacation trip, which will be spent at points on Lake Michigan.

F. Botchuck resigned a position in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning. He is going to work in the steel mills in Gary.

Mrs. D. E. Cleary and Miss Sylvia Marie Cleary, wife and daughter respectively of Dennis Cleary, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, have gone to Chicago to spend a week with friends.

The Pennsylvania wreck crew went to Decatur yesterday to pick up a G. R. & I. engine which had been derailed and mired in the soft earth.

Frank Malone, draftsman, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning. He had been in Chicago spending a vacation.

John Keiss, shipping clerk at the Fort Wayne Electric works, resumed that duty this morning, after two weeks at the lakes.

Blacksmith W. T. Fuller, of the Pennsylvania shops, left Saturday night for York, Pa., where he will visit relatives a week or more.

Harry McMillan resumed the duties of time clerk at the Bass works this morning. He was absent last week taking a vacation, and during the week Lieut. George Sharp acted as time clerk.

Fireman Clarence Lapp, of the Pennsylvania, who has been severely ill with kidney trouble, is out and will probably be able to resume work in a week or two.

Supt. J. C. Sullivan, of the Wabash, who has been sick for a week, is now up and around, but has not recovered to the point where he can give personal attention to the affairs of his office.

Joseph Woenker, a clerk at the Bowser Oil Tank works, sustained a badly sprained ankle Saturday when he slipped on a "bridge" while assisting in loading a car.

The Wabash wreck crew and derrick at Montpelier, Ohio, came down here this morning to pick up a new chicken car that had been thrown off the right-of-way onto Taylor street Saturday.

R. P. Galland, W. A. Stockbridge, R. E. Neireiter, B. F. Carney and J. Negro, who were sick or injured, reported for duty at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

C. J. W. Engelking, Capt. Otto Meyers and Jacob Reiber resumed their duties in the Pennsylvania shop clerk's office this morning. Mr. Engelking had been away on a wedding trip and the others were at the lakes.

Howard Miller, material engineer at the electric works, entered upon his vacation this morning. During the time he will attend the Miller family reunion on the Miller homestead, seven miles south of the city.

Master Car Builder J. A. Graham, of the Pennsylvania, is taking a two two weeks' vacation. With Mrs. Graham he is in Chicago at present, but later they will visit relatives in Pennsylvania.

Machinist W. H. Moeller, who suffered a light attack of appendicitis last week, resumed work at the Pennsylvania air brake room this morning. Cliff Wilkening and C. A. Herr, jr., who had been sick, also reported for work this morning.

George Anderson, of the Fort Wayne Electric works receiving department, claims the championship for one day's catch at Clear lake. Yesterday he caught five pike, the largest one weighing twelve pounds, and three bass, each weighing three pounds.

S. C. East, foreman of laborers in the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, received a telegram from his wife, calling him to Toledo Saturday night. Mrs. East has been there several days, attending at the bedside of her mother, who is sick and whose condition Saturday was such as to give alarm.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron E. Tuttle, of Cleveland, are spending a few days in the city with relatives and friends. Ten years ago they resided in Fort Wayne. Mr. Tuttle is a train dispatcher and since he left the Pennsylvania offices in this city, ten years ago, he has been employed by the Baltimore and Ohio.

The Lake Erie and Western took 565 Fort Wayne people to Cincinnati on the excursion which left this city at midnight Saturday. Other excursionists were picked up and the train went into Cincinnati with 600 people. It was the first excursion to that point of the season and the largest crowd of recent years.

WANTED A "FLOP" AND A "SQUARE"

Thought Madden Was an Old Friend Who Was Just "Kiddin' Him."

CITY COURT DOCKET

"Well I'll tell you judge, your honor, I meets this fellow and he looks so much like an old friend of mine that I struck him for a flop and a square. I just came in from Chicago and I'd been drinkin' a little and when he told me to come with him and he would fix me out, I thought he was on the level and he called the wagon on me. I hadn't had much sleep and I was hungry and I just though I'd struck a friend."

This is the explanation Philip Hans, a cigarmaker, gave of his arrest for drunkenness and he was held until Wednesday to give him a chance to sober up. He met Special Officier Madden and asked him for money to get a bed and something to eat.

Watson is Held Over.

Charles Watson who hired a rig and went off on a drunk with Mabel Langhor and was arrested at Van Wert Saturday on a charge of horse stealing, was held until August 30 under a bond of $300 and the woman was held at a witness.

She said when she left here that she was afraid Watson intended to kill her and was afraid he would kill her anyhow if she didn't go with him and she advised her friends if she didn't return by Friday afternoon to notify the police. Officer Madden heard of the matter and he and Detective Sergeant Pappert investigated the case and a telephone message to Van Wert by Sheriff A. M. Reichelderfer resulted in the arrest. Watson and the woman were found in a corn field near Van Wert and she said he had beaten her and kept her in constant fear that he would carry out his threat.

Elnora McElroy, a negro who conducts a restaurant at 1313 South Calhoun street, was held under a bond of $200 until September 4 on a charge of shooting to kill Charles Jackson, also a negro. The trouble took place in the restaurant Saturday night and Jackson has a bullet wound in one of his legs. The woman pleads self defense and the victim is not dangerously injured.

The Other Cases.

A man and woman giving the assumed names of Charles Warvel and Amanda Lee were fined $25 and costs each on a charge of specific immorality. The man in the case is married and has a wife at South Whitley. He had been living in a boarding house here with another woman and when the landlady found it out she sent for the wife and the arrests resulted.

Elgie Overly was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness. It was charged that his wife left him and he cut up about $100 worth of clothing belonging to her.

Charles Bauer, formerly an inmate of the Ohio Reform school at Lancaster, was held for a week so the police can investigate him. He is charged with vagrancy.

Forest Tarr, clerk in a drug store at Lafayette and Lewis streets, and Harry Bell were held charged with giving intoxicating liquor to Harvey Patterson, 16, Henry Mumke, 16, and Daniel Slentz, 15. The latter is a lad in short trousers and Tarr is accused of having kept liquor in his room which he gave to the boys. Their cases are set for trial on August 28.

Riley Baker, charged with public intoxication said he had not had a single drink but that he took some medicine and that it caused him to chase his wife about the house.

George Phillips and Robert White, nineteen and seventeen, respectively, ran away from home at Cleveland and are being held until their families can be advised.

A case of wife desertion against Lytle Pattee was continued to August 29.

WHEN SHAMPOO IS NOT A HAIR CUT

Customer Only Had a Quarter and Then Demands Justice.

DIDN'T WANT IT ALL

Philadelphia, Aug. 26.—When is a shampoo not a shampoo? E. J. Townsend, who does business at the sign of a striped pole in the center of the city, is being held in $600 bail while a magistrate is consulting Blackstone on this question. Townsend was brought into court on a warrant sworn out by Franklin B. Forrest, of Lansdowne.

Possessed of a lone quarter and the knowledge that his hair was too long, Mr. Forrest made a professional call on Townsend, and intimated he would like a featheredge trim. Lulled by the clip-clip of the shears, he fell to wool gathering and realized too late that the barber, by the diligent application of cologne water, had given him the air of a perfume factory.

"Take it off," he cried, and the barber did, handing him a check for $1.25, being the aggregate for a haircut, shave and shampoo. When Mr. Forrest couldn't pay the barber demanded a watch and match safe as security, but soon after was seeking security for the $600 bond, because Mr. Forrest had immediately started the wheels of justice moving to decide whether that shampoo was a real shampoo and whether the barber had the right to demand valuables in lieu of payment.

Try this Test

Place an aluminum utensil, empty, over a fire and when utensil has become heated throughout, throw into it a pint of ice-water. You will find the utensil unaffected.

That's one reason why "Wear-Ever" ware lasts a generation. But there are other good reasons.

Each "Wear-Ever" utensil is made from thick, hard sheet-aluminum, 99% pure, without joints, seams or soldered parts. No coating to peel, crack or blister. Cannot rust, cannot form poisonous compounds with fruit acids or foods.

Aluminum is a better distributor of heat and retains heat longer than other materials of which cooking utensils are made. Less fire therefore is needed. In fact, by saving 5 minutes in cooking each meal, you can save 90 hours on your fuel bill for the year.

"Wear-Ever" ware saves you food too. Aluminum utensils are less liable to scorch food than others. And even if you let them boil dry "Wear-Ever" utensils can be cleaned without difficulty and will be found uninjured.

Figure then what "Wear-Ever" ware will save you in fuel, food, trouble, and expense for continually replacing worn out cooking utensils.

Replace utensils that wear out with utensils that "Wear-Ever."

URGES CITIES TO ORDER PURE MILK

Barnard Decries Lax Methods and Points to New Ordinance.

NOW ON IN CHICAGO

Indianapolis, Aug. 26.—H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, has issued a public statement in which he calls attention to the "pure milk" ordinance passed recently by the city council of Chicago and asserts that Indiana cities are woefully lacking in some such regulation of the sale of milk. The Chicago ordinance was passed after a bitter fight. It provides that no milk may be sold there that has not come from certified dairies, where the tuberculin test has been applied and where the milk has been handled at a temperature of not more than 55 degrees. If other milk is to be sold on the streets of the city it is required to be pasteurized.

Mr. Barnard, discussing the Indiana situation, declared that the smaller cities of the state have little or no protection for their milk-drinking citizens. It would be much easier for city councils in small cities to establish a regulation akin to that of the Chicago council he said, than for a city the size of Chicago to do so.

"There is no city in Indiana where it is required that the milk go through the tuberculin test," Mr. Barnard said. "Such an innovation as that in Chicago goes a long way on the road toward perfection in handling milk. Some companies handling milk for Indianapolis citizens already pasteurize their product, and it would be very easy for the smaller cities, as well as Indianapolis, to enforce more strict rules with regard to the protection of life and health through pure milk supplies."

In the monthly reports of the inspectors in Mr. Barnard's department it is shown that state dairymen have reverted to their old practices of skimming and "watering" milk before it is placed on the market. Many dairymen were arrested last month for such practices and many of them were convicted of the charges.

READ FIVE-CENT NOVELS.

Burglar-Teacher Tells How He Gained Desire to Commit Crime.

Seymour, Ind., Aug. 26.—Novels, telling of crime, caused the downfall of Oliver Snyder, the young burglar and former school teacher frm Brown county, according to his own statement to the officers. Snyder was arrested here for assaulting Mrs. George Lockmund and entering several houses, although in the attempt to escape he was wounded so badly by Chief of Police John T. Abell that it was necessary to amputate his right leg. He was removed to the Jeffersonville reformatory for safe keeping and reports indicate that he is improving. His aged father, Greenberry Snyder, of Beck's Grove, visited him at the reformatory. Mrs. Lockmund, the woman he attacked, is in a serious condition.

Snyder told the police he acquired the desire for sensational robbing after he had read in five-cent novels how the bold robbers and daring thieves had committed burglaries and escaped from the police. It was in the literature of this kind that he conceived the idea of robbing a house and when found by the officers, throw them from his track by entering the adjoining home. Snyder will be returned here at the October term of court, when he will be indicted.

DID HE MARRY THEM ALL?

Three Women Meet and Recognize Picture of Man as Their Husband.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Charles Cooper, age thirty-four; Mrs. Michael M. Shuck, age thirty-seven, and Mrs. John M. Stockton, age twenty-two, all of Cincinnati, accidently met in the circuit court clerk's office at the court house to examine the marriage records. Each woman wished to learn if her husband had obtained a license to marry another woman. When Mrs. Shuck produced a photograph of her husband, who deserted her several months ago, there was a scream from Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Stockton, and each alleged that it was the photograph of her missing husband, and after comparing notes they were postive in their declaration that he had married and deserted each of them without obtaining a divorce.

A runaway couple answering the description given by Mrs. Shuck, was married in this city in June, but the preacher was out of the city and would not be interviewed by the women. The man had obtained the license at Jeffersonville. Several persons who saw the couple said the bridegroom resembled the man whose picture Mrs. Shuck had. The women left for Cincinnati on the same car to consult the officials and their attorneys.

The Season's Clean-Up

As the new fall goods are coming in we are redoubling our efforts to clean up all the lingering lines of summer goods. Prices have been so reduced that in many instances you can buy three or four articles for the former price of one.

FALL FASHION NOTES

From the looms of England, Germany and France, as well as from those of our own country. We will bring to you this season a wonderful display of dress fabrics in silk materials. Satins, without doubt, will lead. Satin messaline, satin charmeuse, satin meteor, satin duchesse, and other weaves will be in high favor. Among the novelties in wool dress fabrics, zibeline and boucle effects are popular with wearers of high-class suits. Serges, whipcords and Scotch mixture are regarded as "sure thing." For coats the heavy diagonals, chinchillas and double-faced fabrics will continue their popularity of last year. Our assortments will be large and varied and, above all, rightly priced.

CHARGES SCHOOL SYSTEM IS PAGAN

Speaker Urges Religion as Vital Element in Instruction.

ONLY A PART SYSTEM

Indianapolis, Aug. 26.—Our public school system is not Christian, but pagan, and it produces pagan rather than Christian results, according to the Rev. ... C. Todd, of Bloomington, who delivered an address to seventy members of the third annual summer school of methods at Bethany park.

"The present educational system of America is only a partial educational system," he declared. "The present plan of religious and moral education in our civilization is paradoxical. Our general educational system is attempting to train the youth of the land for life with the most important elements and purposes of life omitted. The best theories of education today unanimously concede the purpose of true education to be the development of the whole being to the highest purposes of life. The religious and moral part of this kind of training has been left to a large degree to the home and the church.

"General education is supported by taxation and is compulsory. The most important elements of true education—morals and religion— are supported by voluntary offerings, taught by voluntary, unpaid, untrained teachers and attendance is voluntary. The time is near at hand when we shall grapple with the moral and religious elements of education in the same scientific way that today we are handling the other side of education.

Colleges Are Scored.

"The institutions for educational purposes are the home, school, church and social activities. The elements of religious and moral education must and will be given, in the home, school, church and social activities, a place commensurate with their importance.

"Even our church colleges have been throwing off church control and today are giving little attention to the interests of the church which founded them. For the sake of the addition of a few thousands of dollars to their endowment they will declare themselves independent of ecclesiastical control."

Mr. W. S. Gunsalus, a farmer living near Fleming, Pa., says he has used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in his family for fourteen years, and that he has found it to be an excellent remedy, and takes pleasure in recommending it. For sale by all dealers.

WOMAN, 104, TAKES HENS FOR MODELS

Goes to Sleep When They Do and Cackling Wakens er in Morning.

LIKE ALARM CLOCK

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 26.—Born in the year that the importation of slaves was abolished in this country, Mrs. Margaret Van Rensselaer celebrated her 104th birthday by receiving a score of relatives and firmly declining the invitation of each one to go and live with them. She would rather dwell alone in her little cottage, from the windows of which she has watched the rise and fall of the popularity of this village as a watering place, and tend her flowers and chickens.

Say chickens to Mrs. Van Rensselaer and she will pick up her old-fashioned ample skirts and lead you, willy nilly, to the yard. Observe their habits and you will possess the secret of her long life, so she says. When all the hens have properly adjusted themselves on their roosts Mrs. Van Rensselaer retires for the night, and her alarm clock for rising in the morning is the first crow of a pet rooster.

Such regularity, together with a sturdiness attained in farm work near the Canadian town of her birth, have allowed her long life, Mrs. Van Rensselaer says. Her mother lived to be 94 and her father was 110 years old when he died. Mrs. Van Rensselaer is the oldest daughter of Rebekah in the United States.

A vast amount of ill health is due to impaired digestion. When the stomach fails ao perform its functons properly the whole system becomes deranged. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets is all you need. They will strengthen your digestion, invigorate your liver, and regulate your bowels, entirely doing away with that miserable feeling due to faulty digestion. Try it. Many others have been permanently cured—why not you? For sale by all dealers.

NO FUN ELOPING WITH CONSENT.

Iola Parents Took Away the Thrills With a Blessing.

Columbus, Kan., Aug. 26.—Circumstances conspired to rob John A. Lovoca and Miss Madge Joyce, of Iola, of the thrills of a carefully planned elopement. Parental objection was placed on the marriage because of the youth of the couple. The parents of Miss Joyce returned to Iola unexpectedly from a vacation just as the young couple was starting to Columbus to be secretly wed. Instead of protesting the parents said, "Bless you, my children," and wished them joy on their journey. Marriage with parental consent was less romantic than elopement, but they decided to make the best of it.

Through whose promptness and valor, the Southerners, on July 30, 1864, were enabled to turn back upon the Federals the disaster threatened by the hidden mine, before Petersburg.

Heroes of the Blue and Gray

"FIGHTING PHIL" SHERIDAN
Wearing the same hat that he waved to rally his soldiers on that famous ride from "Winchester, twenty miles away."

THE world has heard of the heroes of the Trojan War as sung by Homer; of the Roman legions as chronicled by Caesar; of Napoleon's genius in tales and histories.

But the only great men of a really great war that you can see, men who tell you their own story today by their very faces and deeds—are the heroes of the Blue and the Gray.

It seems too good to be true, yet every daring deed, every notable action of the brave men who fought in the Civil War is brought to life again in the just discovered

Long-Lost, Original
Brady War Photographs
(Illustrating Elson's Civil War History)

In these famous pictures, and thrilling tales written around them, you follow the faces and deeds of great men at critical moments. They are not shown as fancied by any artist, but as they really were during the stirring years of 1861 to 1865.

Among those who wore the Blue you see:

Grant in camp and on the march—always unassuming, always simple, always great;
Sherman on his war-horse, contemplating his March to the Sea;
Cowan at the head of his battery, riding to battle;
Dare-Devil Custer in the joy of his youth;
"Daring-Dave" Farragut on the Hartford's deck after "damning the torpedoes" of Mobile Bay; and McClellan holding his last interview with the martyr Commander-in-Chief Abraham Lincoln.

Among those who wore the Gray are:

Jefferson Davis, the Confederate President, in his riding suit when captured;
Stonewall Jackson just before his last "flanking" march and his mortal wound;
"Jeb" Stuart, the gallant knight of the Confederacy, with his famous plume;
Pickett, leader of the Confederacy's "high-tide" at Gettysburg; and
Lee, the idol of the Confederacy, with sword and sash at the height of his fame in '63—"Every inch a soldier."

The portraits of these men who made history during the four years' struggle between the North and South are only a few of the hundreds that Brady and his daring assistants snapped on the fields of battle during the Civil War days. In every section of the heroes of the war live for us again. For scattered throughout the 16 sections the pages show you the soldiers of both sides and how they looked and acted in life and as they lay in death.

The Civil War Through the Camera
In Sixteen Superb Sections One Each Week for 10c

You see the first volunteers of the North, just enlisted, standing erect and proud beneath their flag; you see hopeful Southern recruits drilling in homespun and "jeans." You see them cooking, building and making themselves comfortable in camp; you see their spades and picks and axes flying as they build roads, bridges and trenches. You see them on dangerous duty escorting the ammunition train. And, then, you see before the Corinth battlements, on the wide-trampled fields of Gettysburg, in the huddled Petersburg trenches, the final tragedy for hundreds of thousands—the forms of the soldiers as they fell.

If you want to go clear through the Civil War from scene to scene and behold everything that transpired in the first and last great war that was ever caught by the camera, lose no time but subscribe for this wonderful work at once.

Each section of this photographic history is complete as a novel—and the full set of sixteen form a history of the war such as has never before been published. Beginning with the opening gun of the great war, these sixteen sections pass on through the fight along the Mississippi, the struggle for Richmond, the rise of Lee, the opening of the Mississippi, the crisis at Gettysburg, the bitter struggle along the Tennessee, the coming of Grant—and sweeps on to the surrender of Lee at Appomattox.

Ten cents to cover necessary expenses such as cost of material, handling, clerk hire, etc., brings you Section 14—or any other section you desire.

Beatrice is Youngest Monopolist in World—She is the Guinea Pig Trust.

BEATRICE HOWELL, ONE OF HER PIGS AND ONE OF HER PENS.

(Special Correspondence.)

Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 26.—The youngest monopolist in the world is Beatrice Howell, daughter of Frank Howell, a wealthy Dayton attorney. She is only eight.

Beatrice controls the guinea pig market. The Ohio state board of health brought this unusual child into public notice. Calling his assistants to him, the chief of the state laboratories said:

"Gentlemen, the guinea pig market has been cornered by an 8-year-old girl. Not long ago she was selling us all the pigs we wanted for a quarter each. Now she is asking 65 cents in lots of at least 50. I've tried to buy them elsewhere, but they're not to be had."

Beatrice is actually the head of America's largest guinea pig farm.

"The business has grown so within the last year Beatrice is unable to look after the finances," says her mother. "So I keep the accounts for her.

"This year her sales will amount to about 1,500 guinea pigs. She is now getting 65 cents each for them; but the day will soon be here when they will command at least $1.50 each. Why? Because Beatrice is the only person who is able to supply the increasing demand from boards of health and medical colleges."

Every phase of the business is carried on in the name of Beatrice Howell.

"My grandfather, who lives in Peoria, Ill., sent me a pair of guinea pigs a few years ago as a present," said Beatrice. "Mamma, papa and Kathryn paid no attention to them, and I had to care for the little things all myself. Pretty soon we had the yard full of them, and I got papa to build pens.

"Then people began wanting to buy them. I made money so fast papa and mamma said they thought I ought to spend my earnings buying up guinea pigs that other people owned so that after awhile I would be the only one that had any to sell. I did this, and now I guess I sell about all that are sold.

"When I found the Ohio state board of health couldn't get them anywhere else, of course I raised the price. Wouldn't you?"

Beatrice sells only male pigs. To let go of the females would open the way to competitors. Each female, within a single year, will number her descendants at between 30 and 40.

Medical experts consider them indispensable for experimental purposes. They inoculate them with all sorts of disease germs, feed them all sorts of foods and then study the effects.

GERMAN DAY HAS BIG ATTENDANCE

Rev. Pedro Ilgen, of St. Louis Addresses Crowds at Germania.

THE PRIZE WINNERS

Several thousand people visited Germania park Sunday for the annual German day outing. Hundreds came from out of the city, many attracted by the address of Rev. Pedro Ilgen, of St. Louis.

The noted clergyman discussed in eloquent style, the progress that has been achieved by citizens of German parentage in this and other countries. The address was delivered entirely in German and was appreciatively received by the great audience.

During the afternoon the United German Singing societies gave a delightful program, which was repeated in the evening. The class of actives from the Turnerbund also participated in the program.

GREATER THAN FORMER YEARS

Winona Bible Conference is Opening in Promising Fashion.

SOME FINE FEATURES

Winona Lake, Aug. 26.—The second day of the Winona Bible conference proved even more successful than the first. The crowds are increasing daily, and the attendance, as well as the high class of program, promises to eclipse the figures of previous years. On addition to the devotional hour at 6:30 a. m., under Major James H. Cole, the Sunday school hour at 8 o'clock with Mr. Marion Lawrence, the meetings addressed by Prof. Patterson, of Edinburg university; Rev. James M. Gray, D. D., of the Moody Bible Institute; Rev. Camden Cobern, D.D., the famous archaeologist, the evangelists' conference, the meetings of ministers, and the denominational gatherings, on Saturday there were the three daily addresses before the assembled conference. James A. Macdonald, L.L. D., of Toronto, Ont., the editor of the Toronto Globe, and a man of power and influence in his country, spoke Saturday morning on "Lessons From Britain for Life in America." On Saturday afternoon Rev. W. H. Roberts, D. D., of Philadelphia, Pa, the stated clerk of the Presbyterian assembly, gave the address, and the evening sermon was by Rev. Mark A. Mathews, the moderator of the general assembly. A strong program of speakers was arranged for the fifth Sabbath day, and some of the best talented and most prominent men will appear early in the week. The foreign speakers, Rev. J. Cynddylan Jones, of Cardiff, Wales, and Prof. W. P. Paterson, of Edinburg university, are attracting wide attention in their frequent appearances and are bringing to the conference many messages and inspirations from another country.

New officers in the Indiana organization of the National Reform association were elected at the closing meeting of the Christian Citizenship Institute, which has been held at Winona Lake for the past ten days. A. W. Jameson, of Rushville, is the president; Thomas McNary, of Richmond, the secretary, and Dr. G. W. H. Kemper, of Muncie, the treasurer. In addition twenty-two executive committeemen and twenty-five vice-presidents were chosen from various sections of the state. The institute of 1912 was a great success and plans are already being laid on a more elaborate scale to make the meetings of next year even better. One hundred delegates, representing the twenty-three states included in the institute enrollment, were elected to the World's Christian Citizenship Conference, which will be held at Portland, Ore., from June 29 to July 6, 1913.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 26.—Wheat today failed to hold an early advance. Predictions of fair, cool weather northwest favoring a better movement of the newly harvested crop gave courage to sellers. September started at 94¼c to 94⅜c, but reacted to 94c.

A further setback came from reports of improved conditions for threshing in the Dakotas and Minnesota. The close was steady with September ⅛@¼c net lower at 93¾c.

Lightness of offerings furnished only a temporary show of strength to corn. September opened at 72¼c to 73¼c.

Additional weakness ensued, owing to excellent weather and increased rural offerings. The close was steady at 72⅜c for September, a net gain of ½c.

Oats followed the changes in corn. September started a shade off at 32½c and declined to 32¼c. Firmness at the yards made provisions advance. First sales ranged from 2½c lower to 5c higher with January delivery $19.15 for pork, $10.77½ to $10.80 for lard and $10.17½ to $10.20 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Aug. 26.—Canadian Pacific, the coppers and some obscure specialties displayed varying degrees of strength at the opening of today's stock market. Canadian Pacific gained 1¼ with substantial advances in Utah and Chino. Reading and Union Pacific were among the better known stocks that opened with small declines.

The financial communities' pessimistic mood as shown in the early movement of stocks today was attributed to events at Washington. The signing of the Panama canal bill and the congressional deadlock have tended further to alienate public interest and that of professional traders as well. Bonds were irregular.

The market closed irregular. Prices dropped in the late dealings.

NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 26.—For Fort Wayne and Vicinity: Fair and cooler tonight and Tuesday.

GENERAL FORECAST.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—For Indiana: Thundershowers this afternoon; fair and cooler tonight and Tuesday.
For Ohio: Showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and in east portion tonight; cooler tonight; Tuesday fair and cooler.
Lower Michigan: Unsettled and cooler tonight; Tuesday fair, with cooler south portion.

SUMMARY OF WEATHER CONDITIONS

A storm which is passing down the St. Lawrence valley this morning has given quite general showers since yesterday morning over New York, the lake region and the Ohio valley, some rain still being reported this morning from portions of the Ohio valley. Over the southern states and all states west of the Mississippi fair weather has prevailed during the last twenty-four hours. Over the northern half of the country high temperatures were recorded yesterday, the highest temperatures being from 95 to 100 degrees over most of the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri, while from the Ohio valley to New England they were from 85 to 90 degrees yesterday. An area of high barometer, accompanied by cooler weather is spreading southeastward from the northwest.

The high pressure area from the northwest will overspread this section and give fair and cooler weather for this vicinity tonight and Tuesday.

BROKEN RAIL IS CAUSE OF WRECK

One Killed and Fifteen Injured in Accident to Excursion Train.

INDIANA FOLK HURT

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 26.—An excursion train, Decatur to Indianapolis, over the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad was wrecked yesterday by a broken rail at Antioch, Ill., five miles southeast of Decatur.

Jacob Ozencopskie, of Decatur, was killed, his neck being broken.

Mrs. R. Simpson, of Indianapolis, suffered a fracture of the right knee and broken rib. Fifteen others suffered minor injuries.

The list of injured includes C. T. Smaltz, Austin, Ind., ligaments in right shoulder torn. Mrs. Nancy Urich, Indianapolis, right ankle sprained; leg badly crippled.

The train left Decatur about 7 o'clock, a few minutes behind time, with 154 passengers for Indianapolis. A stop had been made at Antioch, and the train was just picking up speed going down grade when the rail broke under the engine.

The train was made up of four day coaches and a combination baggage and smoking car. The combination car was the first car behind the engine and was almost completely demolished. It was in this car that young Ozeneofskie lost his life.

For more than a hundred yards the roadbed was swept clean of steel and the truck and air tanks were cast off clean from the two cars, which overturned and rolled against the fence of the right of way.

FULK HELD AT PAULDING.

Webster, Stabbed at Payne, Is Not Thought to be Seriously Hurt.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Payne, O., Aug. 26.—William Fulk, of Fort Wayne, charged with stabbing Charles Webster at the home of Ollie Webseter on Sunday, was held today at Paulding to await the outcome of the injuries to his victim. The physician who is attending Webster says that he is not seriously hurt and that he will recover.

The men had an altercation Saturday night which was renewed yesterday and the stabbing was done with a small pocket knife. The wound is just below the heart and is not a deep one.

ANGOLA MAN IS LIKELY TO WIN

THE OTHER EVENTS

Indianapolis, Aug. 26.—Interest at the annual Indiana National Guard shoot at Fort Benjamin Harrison now has centered in the struggle for the state supremacy in rifle shooting and the coveted governor's prize. The match began Saturday and up to late yesterday afternoon the preliminary elimination skirmish, the ten shots of rapid firing, the ten slow shots, firing at 200 yards, and a part of the shooting at 600 yards had been concluded.

There were 190 competitors entered in the governor's match, but all but fifty of these were eliminated in the first skirmish. There was much speculation yesterday as to the probable winner, as Lieut. J. W. Hurt of Indianapolis, Sergt. Meyers of Angola and Sergt. Cover of Franklin were "running neck and neck."

Lieut. Hurt took the lead in the first, scoring 91 points as against 89 by Sergt. Meyers and 89 by Sergt. Cover. The ten shots rapid firing showed Sergt. Meyers in the lead, with Lieut. Hurt and Sergt. Cover tied for second place. In the ten shots slow firing at a range of 200 yards, Sergt. Cover took his turn at leading, while Sergt. Meyers had second place and Lieut. Hurt third.

When the shooting at 600 yards is completed, all but twenty of the competitors will have been eliminated, and these will shoot at 800 yards and 1,000 yards. The winner will be the person making the highest total score. The events of the Indiana State Rifle association, which will follow the governor's match, will conclude the meet.

A number of the contests already have been concluded. The Third Infantry, I. N. G., won the regimental team rifle shoot by a total score of 2,888. The Second regiment was second with 2,879 and the First regiment third with 2,502.

Angola Man Won First Place.

In the match for company teams of five enlisted men each, twenty-nine teams competing, Company B, of the Third infantry, from Angola, won first place with a score of 637. Company D, of the Second infantry, from Terre Haute, won second with 622, and Company H, of the Third, from Warsaw, won third with 603.

In the match for battalion teams of five men each, thirty-nine teams competing, team No. 1 of the Third battalion, Third infantry, won first place with a score of 530. Team No. 2 of the First battalion, Second infantry, won second with 528 and team No. 1 of the First battalion, Third infantry, third with 520 points.

Saturday afternoon and yesterday morning were devoted largely to pistol firing in team and individual matches in state events and events of the Indiana State Rifle association. Battery A of Indianapolis, with a score of 641, won first place in the pistol team match for teams of three from any company of infantry, or battalion of artillery or headquarters Company D of the Second infantry of Indianapolis won second with 632, and Company B of the First infantry from Terre Haute, third with 594.

Lieut. Ball of Indianapolis won the individual pistol match, scoring 212 points, with Sergt. Garland of Rensselaer a close second with 211 and Sergt. Peck of Indianapolis third with 210.

In the match for pistol teams by the Indiana State Rifle association Company D of the Second infantry won with 353 points. Battery A of Indianapolis, second with 347 and Company B of the First infantry third with 332.

Sergt. Julius Lawson of the Second infantry, from Anderson, won the individual state pistol championship with a total score of 141, beating his nearest competitor, Sergt. Jerry Garland of the Third infantry, by fourteen points. Sergt. Garland scored 127 points and Capt. Alfred Black of the Third regiment took third place with a score of 121.

LARGE THRONG AT DEDICATION

Church of the Precious Blood Consecrated to Great Work.

FAIR NEXT MONTH

Sunday was a memorable day in Fort Wayne Catholic circles when the magnificent new $50,000 structure of the congregation of the Precious Blood was dedicated with impressive services. The new church edifice at the corner of Barthold and Fourth streets was thronged during the day, beginning at the time of the opening service at 10 o'clock.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding presided at the services which opened with prayers and chanting at the main entrance of the church, at the close of which the bishop, and his attending priests and acolytes formed a procession which marched around the church. The bishop sprinkled the holy water on the walls and foundation of the building, after which a similar ceremony took place within. The bishop and priests then entered the sanctuary, where the bishop blessed the tabernacle. The celebration of solemn high mass by the Very Rev. Boniface Russ, provincial of the congregation of the Most Precious Blood, at Carthagena, Ohio, followed.

The deacons of honor to the bishop were Rev. Andrew Girtl, C. PP. S., of Collegeville, Ind., and Rev. John Biedermann, of Sheldon. Rev. Thomas Eisenring officiated as assistant priest. Rev. George Hindeland, of Celina, Ohio, was deacon of the mass and Rev. Mark Hamburger, C. PP. S., of Cincinnati, officiated as sub-deacon. Rev. William C. Miller, of Fort Wayne, acted as master of ceremonies, and Rev. Simon M. Yenn participated in the ceremonies.

As a text for his splendid discourse of the morning, Rev. J. F. Delaney, of St. Patrick's church of Fort Wayne, chose the words from the Acts: "You shall receive the power of the Holy Ghost and shall be witnesses to all Judea and Samaria and even to the utmost bounds of the earth."

Conspicuous among those present at the morning service were Rev. Charles Thiele, Fort Wayne; Rev. Hugo Lear, C. PP. S., Collegeville; Rev. C. Hummer, pastor, and Rev. B. Ault, assistant pastor of the church whose congregation and friends had gathered to witness the ceremony of dedication. The ordination of Rev. Alexander Linnerman, C. PP. S., of Carthagena, Ohio, the first son of the parish will occur next spring.

In the afternoon the bishop celebrated solemn pontifical vespers, at which time he delivered a sermon and administered the sacrament to a class of 141.

Rev. Hugo Lear was deacon of the afternoon services; Rev. Ignatius Freiburger, of Decatur, sub-deacon; Rev. William C. Miller, master of ceremonies.

Other priests attending the services in the afternoon were: The pastor and his assistant, Rev. Simon M. Yenn, Rev. J. R. Quinlan, Rev. H. S Joseph Kroll, Rev. George Horstman, Rev. Mayr, of this city; Rev. George Angermeir, Auburn, and Rev. August Young, of Garrett.

The congregation of the Church of the Precious Blood is arranging for a fair to be held from October 14 to 19, inclusive, in the former church building which has been remodeled as a church hall.

CATHOLIC YOUNG MEN ARE UNITED

Six Societies in City Join Together in District Federation.

TALKS BY SEYFRIED

The six Catholic Young Men's societies in this city have joined together in the perfection of a central organization, to be known at the St. John's Catholic District Federation, the name having been chosen as a mark of respect to Rt. Rev. Mgr. John H. Oechtering.

The societies which have joined together are the St. Martinius' and St. Stephen's societies of the St. Peter's church; St. Carrolus Borromaus' and St. Aloysius' of St. Mary's church; St. Anthony's of St. Paul's church, and St. Aloysius of St. Andrew's church. The meeting was held Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's school hall. Adam A. Reinhart called the meeting together as temporary chairman, and Charles Shellhammer acted as secretary. The objects of the new federation were explained as tending towards the general welfare and better acquaintanceship among the societies, and the election of officers took place, resulting in the selection of Mr. Reinhart as president, Joseph Schaefer, of St. Aloysius' society of St. Andrew's church as vice president; Charles Schellhammer, of St. Stephen's of St. Peter's church, as secretary; and Frank Bangert, of St. Anthony's society of St. Paul's church, as treasurer. Spiritpal directors were chosen to include Rt. Rev. Mgr. Oechtering, Rev. Charles Thiele, Rev. H. F. Kroll and Rev. George Horstman

During the meeting the members of the various societies listened to addresses both in German and English by Hon. Henry Seyfried, state president of St. Joseph's Staatzverband. Mr. Seyfried, whose home is in Indianapolis, was met at the train by a special escort during the morning, and shown about the city preceding the afternoon meeting. Rev. Charles Thiele also gave a talk at the meeting.

SKELTON TO BE NEW SECRETARY

To Succeed Preble in Republican County Central Committee.

VESEY LIKES SEARS

Republican County Chairman Amos E. Houk states that in all probability Judge B. W. Skelton will be selected to succeed C. M. Preble as secretary of the republican county central committee. Mr. Preble recently left the ranks of the republican party and has cast his lot with the progressives. Mr. Houk sent out letters this morning, asking the committeemen to reply at an early date in naming their choice for the secretaryship.

Mr. Houk and other members of the central committee are exceedingly enthusiastic over the fact that no other county candidates resigned at the meeting held with Bull Moose leaders Saturday. The county chairman states that the reaction has come, and that instead of the old line men flocking in droves to the new party, they are remaining firmly seated in the boat, retaining the faith of those who elected them, and also inducing others to renew their confidence in the republican party.

"L. L. Bart, committeeman from the first precinct of the first ward, who resigned Saturday night to take a similar place with the progressives, is mistaken," said Mr. Houk. "Mr. Bart was not the choice of the people as he declares in his letter of resignation. William Leedy was elected committeeman from the first precinct, and could not act on account of ill health, so I appointed Mr. Bart myself after consulting with other members of the central committee."

Vesey is Pleased.

District Republican Chairman Allen J. Vesey expressed pleasure at the turn of affairs in Lagrange county, and states that he is pleased with the resignation of Louis Deal as county chairman. Mr. Vesey says that a man on the fence, undecided as to what move to make, would not make a very successful county chairman, therefore he is glad to have opportunity of joining in the selection of Charles Sears, to succeed Mr. Deal.

"Sears was a Teddy man until after the Chicago convention," said Mr. Vesey. "He feels now, however, that the Chicago nominee should be supported and he is now a zealous advocate of President Taft. Mr. Sears is a farmer and a leader in his community."

Mr. Vesey states that none of the other county chairmen will resign, and he says that republicans of Whitley and Noble counties are reporting a sort of party revival, saying many of the doubtful have decided to remain true to the party and President Taft.

For Wayne council, No. 212, U. T. C., is planning for a picnic Saturday, September 7, at Robison park. A special feature of the day's program will be a base ball game between the local and Kokomo councils.
